Drevlow Names Demo of Arco as New Legislator

BOISE, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Acting Gov. W. E. Drevlow today named Fred Reich, 63, an Arco Democrat, to succeed resigning Kay Jorgensen as state representative from Butte county. "I'm glad to get this out of our hair," Drevlow said of the appointment, subject of controversy for several weeks. "It's an unimportant appointment. But there's been a lot of publicity on it. I'm glad to make the appointment and get it over with." Jorgensen's resignation—effective today—was received by Drevlow yesterday while he was sitting in for Republican Gov. Robert E. Smylie, who was attending the opening of the winter Olympics in Squaw Valley, Calif.

Reich, a Butte county resident for 41 years, immediately announced he would run for the post this year to succeed himself.

Jorgensen, now a resident of Utah and living in Granger, had steadfastly refused to give up his post until Drevlow could name a Democrat. Smylie was just as unyielding in the matter and kept calling for a resignation from Jorgensen so he could name a Republican.

Through the entire argument, leaders from both parties continually noted the appointment had no particular effect except in case of a special session—considered an unlikely prospect.

But Smylie said the people of Butte county named a replacement for the absent Jorgensen and alleged Drevlow and Democratic party Chairman John Walters both had "resignations" from Jorgensen. This they denied, saying they had only notice he would quit.

Reich served as a member of the Butte county school board, the Arco city council, has been a commander of the American Legion and potentate of the Shrine, and president of Chamber of Commerce and Rotary club.

He is a service station operator and was a car dealer for a number of years in Arco.

Last Chance Moves Made By Chessman

SAN QUENTIN, Calif., Feb 18 (UPI)—Attorneys maneuvered desperately today to win a "last chance" stay of execution for Caryl Chessman.

The 38-year-old convict-author faced what appeared to be the final 60 hours of his 11½ year fight for life. He is scheduled to enter the San Quentin prison gas chamber at 10 a.m. (PST) tomorrow for the crimes of kidnap with bodily harm, the latter being sex perversion.

Attorney A. L. Wirin said he and co-Counsel George T. Davis would ask an "appropriate" court today for a stay of execution.

Purpose of the stay is to permit the attorneys to ask the California supreme court to reconsider its 4 to 3 decision late yesterday not to recommend clemency.

Wirin said the decision to return to the courts was made after Gov. Edmund G. Brown refused to grant a 10-day reprieve so attorneys could return to the state supreme court.

Broad Probe For Manuals Is Scheduled

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—hairman Carl Vinson, D., Ga., of he house armed services committee, "distressed" at repeated ir force goofs in training manuals, today ordered a full inquiry at possibly may embrace the anuals of army and navy as well.

He directed a subcommittee eaded by Rep. Melvin Price, D., l., to make the study, starting ith an air force security manual, ued to reservists and now reled, linking churches with communism.

It's Second Case

Noting that this was the second ntroversial air force publication come to light in recent weeks—e other advising airmen how to ix drinks, wash dishes, make beds d wash dogs for the generals—inson said the subcommittee later ay want to broaden its inquiry to ver the whole field of training anuals in all the services.

Meanwhile, it was learned that e air force has issued an iron d rule to prevent the publican of any more manuals like the curity publication that aroused e ire of the National Council of urches of Christ in the USA.

Authorship Claimed

In Tulsa, Okla., today Evangest Billy James Hargis said he was e author of much of the controrsial material used in the manu under fire for its references king the National Council of urches to communism.

Hargis said the air force used tracts written by him as aurity for its statements. Hargis challenged the president of e National Council of Churches, e Rev. Edwin T. Dahlberg, St. uis, to a public debate on the bject.

Cabinet OK's Russ, Cuban Trade Plans

HAVANA, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Cuban cabinet today ratified the big, sugar-heavy trade pact signed last Saturday by Prime Minister Fidel Castro and Soviet First Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan.

The deal makes the Soviet Union Cuba's biggest customer next to the United States.

In the wake of the agreement, U. S. Secretary of State Christian A. Herter announced in Washington that consideration is being given to cancellation of the system under which the United States pays premium prices for Cuban sugar.

There was no comment from the late night cabinet meeting on Herter's remarks. But Castro is expected to blast the American secretary tonight when he makes another of his periodic television appearances.

Under the trade pact, the Soviet Union will buy five million tons of sugar at world-market prices over the next five years. It will pay 20 per cent of the cost in dollars, the rest in Soviet products.

New Portland Paper Asked

PORTLAND, Ore., Feb. 18 (AP)—A new daily newspaper was proposed yesterday for Portland, where a strike has forced the city's two dailies to issue a joint publication.

Papers for incorporation of the proposed new daily, the Portland Examiner, were submitted to the state corporation commissioner at Salem.

The papers were found to be incomplete, however, and were not accepted.

The backers of the new daily were not disclosed.

Attorney William B. Murray said the principals will have to remain anonymous for the time being . . . They are investment bankers and professional newspaper people who think it is a money making opportunity for a new daily in Portland."

That could mean as many as four dailies in a city where only two have existed for years.

State Presents Case For Death Penalty

The state continued its parade of witnesses against Donald LeRoy Schoonover Thursday morning in its attempt to win the death penalty requested by Prosecuting Attorney Edward F. Babcock in his opening statement to the jury at beginning of testimony Wednesday afternoon. Witnesses appearing during the Thuraday morning session of district court were James Visser, Mel Crawford, Twin Falls Police Chief Howard Gillette and Twin Falls County Sheriff James H. Benham.

Visser, the Yellow Cab driver whose tip led officers to Bob Geer's Trophy room where Schoonover was arrested, was recalled to the witness stand by defense attorney J. Alfred May for cross examination concerning a conversation Visser had with Schoonover as they drove from the Pioneer bar to the Trophy room.

Visser informed the court Schoonover said he had "started off the year with a bang," and "I got rid of one millstone about 10 days ago and another one tonight."

Mel Crawford, KLIX-TV news director who was present at the police station during the questioning of Schoonover, declared the accused man told Gillette, "I killed her. I would kill my wife too if she were here."

Crawford added that Gillette interrupted Schoonover to inform him of his rights to counsel and advised him that anything he said could be used against him. The newsman described Schoonover as being "tense, defiant and arrogant" during the interrogation, and said he was "eager to talk."

Crawford also stated Schoonover told police he choked his mother-in-law, Mrs. Veran Turner, for about 15 minutes and tied a bathrobe cord around her neck after she was dead.

Gillette and Benham followed Crawford to the witness stand during the morning questioning and each summarized his part in examining the apartment at 48 Washington court where the slaying took place and the ensuing search for and arrest of Schoonover.

Sheriff Benham was still on the stand when the court recessed at noon. Assistant Prosecutor Robert N. W. Ballelsen said he expected to call five more witnesses and conclude the state's case Thursday afternoon or Friday morning.

With the state's evidence all in, May will begin calling defense witnesses in an attempt to save

Park Suggested

GRANGEVILLE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Roy Stockman, well-known Idaho county sportsman, has written Sen. Frank Church, D., Ida., urging selection of the Seven Devils area bordering Hells canyon as the site of a national park.

Stockman wrote that he, representative of the Wild Life club and forest service, several writers and Louise Shaddock, Boise, had visited the area last summer.

NEWS BULLETINS

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., Feb. 18 (UPI)—A swirling snowstorm added to the woes of the winter Olympic games today. Traffic was snarled and the storm delayed the arrival of Vice President Richard Nixon, who was to open the games officially at 1:30 p.m., (PST).

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Labor law indictments against former Teamsters union President Dave Beck and the Fruehauf Trailer company, Detroit, were dismissed today by Federal Judge Sidney Sugarman.

LONDON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Queen Elizabeth II called her doctors into prolonged consultation at Buckingham palace today, but by late afternoon her expected baby had not arrived.

BONN, Germany, Feb. 18 (AP)—Several allied military men were isolated in an Iron Curtain liaison post today as the western allies defied a new move by the Soviet Union. Informants said the Americans were determined to hold fast against the acceptance of new travel passes.

GOLDEN, Colo., Feb. 18 (AP)—The investigation of the disappearance of Adolph Coors III, wealthy brewery executive, went into its 10th day today with the mystery seemingly more impenetrable than ever.

Reservoir Low

HAILEY, Feb. 18—Magic reservoir had approximately one-third as much water as of Feb. 1 as was measured at this time last year, Mans Coffin, watermaster for Big Wood river and Silver creek, notes in his annual report filed here Wednesday.

He measured 45,000 acre feet in the reservoir, while a year ago on the same date the measurement was 125,000 acre feet.

Utah Gas Firm's Rate Boost OK'd

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Utah public service commission yesterday granted a rate increase of about 4½ per cent to Mountain Fuel Supply company.

Natural gas customers in Utah will be billed an average of 4.45 per cent more.

The rate hike will increase company revenues by $1,215,136 a year, but more than half of that will be paid as federal income taxes.

Mountain Fuel was ordered to spread the increase in rates equally among its customers. More than two-thirds of the rate hike will be among household customers and small businesses.

Seeks Nomination

GLENNS FERRY, Feb. 18 (AP)—Alvin Joslyn, Glenns Ferry, announced yesterday he will seek the Democratic nomination for state representative from Elmore county.

"College Night" Is Held by PTSA Unit

Representatives from Idaho's institutions of higher education gave general summaries of facilities offered and entrance requirements of their schools at the annual PTSA "college night" held Wednesday at the Twin Falls high school library. The officials conducted special interviews with students at the high school all day Thuraday. The speakers were Alton B. Jones, registrar, Idaho State college, Pocatello; Charles H. Bond, chief student counselor, University of Idaho, Moscow; W. L. Gottenberg, vice president, admissions officer and representative of the nursing school, Boise Junior college; Richard H. Winder, director of admissions, College of Idaho, Caldwell; Paul E. Kunkel, associate registrar, Northwest Nazarene college, Nampa; Norman Ricks, Ricks college, Rexburg, and Florence Miles, director of the nursing program at Boise Junior college.

Jones told the group that Idaho State college has 2,353 students currently enrolled in courses. He said the college includes in the curriculum 17 courses in trades and industries. The average cost per pupil per year to attend the institution is about $1,200, which includes tuition fees, costs of books and room and board on or off the campus.

Jones said students should send inquiries before the end of the school term. Requirements for enrolling are a high school diploma and a transcript of lower education grades. The college offers bachelor of arts and science degrees and also master degrees in education, english and physics.

Bond said entrance in University of Idaho is open to all students of suitable academic standing in Idaho or from out of state. He quoted costs per year as about $1,025. Bond said there are eight colleges within the university.

Gottenburg said that entrance requirements for Boise Junior college are a transcript of high school records, medical examination and self photos. He stated that transfer students must supply character references with transcripts, as well as students that have been out of high school for a semester before enrolling in college. Yearly costs at the junior college are about comparable with those of other schools, he said.

Winder said that entrance requirements to the College of Idaho are a high school record with a minimum of "C" average during the four-year term. The college

U.S. Additive Law Claimed "Impossible"

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The head of the agriculture department's research activities said today "I don't think we can live with a law that says you can't add chemicals to feeds and foods which are essential to growth."

Dr. B. T. Shaw made the statement in an interview on agricultural problems raised by what is known as the Delaney amendment in the food additives law.

Ban Provided

This amendment bans the use in foods or feeds of any chemical additive that has been shown to induce cancer in a test animal when ingested, regardless of the amount required to produce tumors.

President Eisenhower announced last week that he had requested reports from scientists in the agriculture department, the department of health, education, and welfare, and his science advisory committee concerning the use of chemicals as food additives.

Shaw said the Delaney amendment "as now interpreted says a substance that is a carcinogen (cancer-causing agent) in any use, can't be used in any other way.

"We don't think things are quite that black and white."

Individual Decisions Asked

He advocted instead that the decision be left to professional scientific judgment of what is best in each case.

Shaw took selenium as a specific example for illustration.

"There is evidence it can cause cancer," he said, "but it has been proven in the last five years that minute quantities are absolutely essential to the growth of sheep.

"Sheep have to have it, or they develop a muscular disease known as white muscular disease."

Attorney OK'd

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The senate today confirmed President Eisenhower's nomination of Kenneth G. Bergquist as U. S. Attorney for Idaho.

Herter Tells Of 'Mistake' War Danger

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Secretary of State Christian A. Herter warned today that scientific advances are driving the world ever closer to the possibility of "war by miscalculation." Herter said that in order to arrest this frightening progress toward the possibility of "general war," it was urgently necessary to take steps to create "a more stable military environment."

The secretary made his remarks in a speech at a National Press club luncheon.

He said two steps were needed as soon as possible to control the dangers of "a continuing arms race" featured by "spiralling competition in strategic delivery system:"

—"First, to meet the danger of miscalculation, there is need for safeguards against surprise attack."

—"The testing of nuclear weapons and eventually the production of fissionable material for weapons purposes must be prohibited under effective inspection."

Herter made a strong plea for the Soviets to abandon their suspicions and cooperate with the West in new efforts at general disarmament which begin about March 15 at a 10-nation conference in Geneva.

The secretary urged Russia to abandon "hollow slogans" calling for disarmament without effective control. He said "one measure of the Soviets' seriousness in the forthcoming negotiations will be their recognition of this fact" that here repetition of phrases will not end the mounting peril of the arms race.

The secretary said that "the

Benson Farm Plan Offered To Congress

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson today offered congress a proposed farm bill which would greatly reduce price supports and eliminate production controls for wheat.

This measure, he said, expresses President Eisenhower's preference as well as his own for solution of the wheat surplus problem.

But in line with the special farm message the President sent to congress last week, Benson said he recognizes that "other constructive approaches may be preferred by congress."

Benson offered his bill in a statement at a hearing before the house agriculture committee. The hearing room was jammed for Benson's first appearance of the session.

It is the Eisenhower-Benson contention that lower supports would discourage production in high-cost areas. This, coupled with a possible greater use of wheat as livestock feed, would be expected to bring a balance between production and consumption and thus end surpluses.

Youth Is Sentenced On Reckless Charge

Robert L. Vincent, 17, Wyoming, was sentenced to 30 days in the Twin Falls county jail and fined $50 Thursday by Twin Falls Probate Judge J. Dean Mosher for driving on a revoked license. Fifteen days of the sentence were suspended and Judge Mosher ordered that he be confined away from adult prisoners. Vincent was arrested by State Patrolman Broy G. Harding Friday. The youth's license was suspended in May, 1959, in Wyoming for reckless driving. Since then he has failed to comply with the financial responsibility act. Vincent was visiting relatives in Twin Falls.

Daniel H. Woodland, Wendell, and Gallard W. Brown, route 1, Wendell, were fined $25 and costs each and their licenses were suspended for 30 days by Wendell Justice of the Peace J. O. Miller Wednesday for reckless driving. They were cited by State Patrolman Marvin S. Wright.

Virgil H. McCray, Wendell, was fined $5 and costs by Judge Miller Wednesday for a stop sign violation. The citation was issued by State Patrolman Frank Mogensen.

Clyde J. Slatter, 181 Borah avenue west, elected to take his statutory time before entering a plea to driving on a revoked license when he appeared before Twin Falls Justice of the Peace George E. Scott Wednesday. Slatter's license was revoked in North Carolina for drunk driving and subsequently revoked in Idaho. He is being held in the county jail in lieu of $150 bond.

Teen-Age Law Draws Praise And Criticism

By WILLIAM BEBOUT
Associated Press Writer

A 1959 law which has had a sobering effect on the teen-age drivers of Pocatello was termed "a trap" yesterday by Idaho Commissioner of Law Enforcement E. R. Hopper.

The law requires forfeiture of driving privileges by youngsters under 18 years of age who are convicted of moving traffic violations.

"Just because there are more violations in the teen-age group," Hopper declared, "there is no reason to set a trap for them. We should be trying to educate rather than convict them."

But an opposite view on the controversial law was expressed by Pocatello municipal court Judge R. Don Bistline.

Bistline said he has found the new law to be "very, very effective."

"My juvenile traffic violation caseload," Bistline said, "has dropped from 15 or more a week to two or three since we started following the law five months ago. And we haven't had a repeat violator," he added.

Bistline said that most of the violations in his court now are the result of traffic accidents. But he said "the use of the law has also cut down on our accidents."

The Pocatello magistrate said he is concerned because only a few judges in the state are using the law. He said he believes "we are discriminating against" Pocatello youngsters when "other places are not" invoking the law.

The law has two provisions. One relates to 14-year-old drivers and the other to 16-year-olds.

New Jersey Fire Hurts 11 People

CLIFTON, N. J., Feb. 18 (UPI)—A five-story, 1,000-foot industrial building was a smouldering rubble today from a raging blaze which had injured 11 persons and caused an estimated six million dollars damage.

Small patches of flame continued to break out in the rubble.

About 1,000 employes of firms occupying the building fled when the fire broke out yesterday. Occupants of nearby homes were forced to leave. A tavern and three homes were damaged by the blaze.

The building, owned by the Raywin Realty corporation, was mainly occupied by the Velvoray corporation, manufacturers of plastic fabrics and tarpaulins.

Ownership of "Half Bird Dog," Mike, Is Disputed by Two Women at Burley

BURLEY, Feb. 18—Ownership of a male mongrel dog, valued at $60 and named Mike, was in question today after one Burley woman filed a claim in probate court Wednesday and another posted a $100 bond for the animal's recovery this morning.

Meantime, Mike, who is brown and white and considered "half bird dog" is with Mrs. Katherine Martin after spending the night in a local veterinarian hospital.

He was taken to the hospital by Deputy Sheriff H. O. Warrell after Sarah Sue Walker filed claim in probate court Wednesday to gain possession of the dog.

She claims that when Mrs. Martin, who operated the Lee hotel here, gave Mike to her when she left town several months ago.

When Mrs. Martin returned to Burley she asked for the dog back, but Mrs. Walker refused to return the dog, claiming Mike had been given to her by Mrs. Martin.

When Miss Walker moved to 2057 Normal avenue from the Lee hotel, where she had been living, Mrs. Martin would not allow her to take Mike with her, according to the claim filed by Miss Walker.

After the claim was filed by Miss Walker, Deputy Warrell found Mrs. Martin and took the dog, placing it in the hospital overnight.

This morning Mrs. Martin posted a $100 bond for [illegible] delivery of the dog so the [illegible] got Mike from the hospital [illegible] took it back to her.

Mrs. Martin also filed [illegible] district court [illegible] of a [illegible] claims Miss Walker has in her possession at her home on [illegible] avenue.

Ralph Prentice, route 1, Wendell, was fined $11 and costs by Wendell Justice of the Peace J. C. Miller Wednesday for going 66 miles per hour in a 55-mile zone. The citation was issued by State Patrolman S. D. Lueckert. He also was given 25 demerits.

Clyde E. Cox, 41, Buhl, was fined $15, $3 costs and assigned 25 demerits Wednesday when he appeared before Twin Falls Police Judge J. O. Pumphrey on a charge of following another vehicle too closely. Cox was cited Sunday after a two-car collision in the 100 block of Addison avenue west.

Herbert E. Nelson, 37, Nora, Minn., was fined $15, $3 costs and assigned 35 demerits Wednesday when he appeared before Twin Falls Police Judge J. O. Pumphrey on a stop sign violation. Nelson was cited Saturday after a two-car collision at the intersection of Sixth avenue and Third street west.

Hearings on Burns Creek Project End

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UP) — Three days of hearings on the proposed Burns Creek project on Idaho's Snake river ended yesterday before a house interior subcommittee.

Rep. Walter Rogers, D., Tex., chairman, said further testimony may be taken later from interior department witnesses. Some 30 witnesses were heard on the proposal, which was authorized by the senate last July but not by the house.

Farmers Testify

Several farmers and cooperative power representatives from the Burns Creek area testified in support of the project, which would cost an estimated 45 to 50 million dollars and produce power as well as impound water for irrigation.

R. J. Harper, Malta, Ida., said Burns Creek could relieve fear of drought, and, with generating capacity, could supply farmers with low-cost power to pump irrigation water.

M. M. Hintze, a Mackay, Ida., farmer, said power from Burns Creek can be used profitably in his area for irrigation and would stabilize the area's economy.

Fear of Plan Expressed

Eino Draney, manager of the Lower Valley Power and Light association, Afton, Wyo., noted a fear that Burns Creek power might curtail use of Wyoming coal in the Kemmerer, Wyo., plant of the Utah Power and Light company.

Alex Radin, general manager of the American Public Power association, said Burns Creek is "a needed and feasible multiple-purpose development" and that its power facilities will "make available benefits which would not otherwise be available to the area."

A delegation headed by O. R. Baum, a Pocatello, Ida., attorney representing the Grays Lake, Ida., committee, asked the subcommittee to include a provision to guard against the closing off of outlets from Grays lake, some 30 miles from the Burns creek site, to be sure that area land would not be flooded.

Eastern Witnesses Opposed

Earlier in the day the committee heard a number of opposition witnesses.

They included Welles A. Gray, Albany, N. Y., who said he spoke for the Empire State Chamber of Commerce and 28 other New York state chambers.

"We in New York feel entitled to be concerned about the justification of any federal project since about one-seventh of the federal tax burden is borne by the people of the state of New York," he said.

He said his group feels that the project "is not clearly essential and which at best is of only marginal economic feasibility."

Sun Valley Bound Couple Lands OK

LOGAN, Utah, Feb. 18 (UPI)—A converted Douglas B-23 bomber pulled a wartime stunt yesterday afternoon with a wing-and-a-prayer one-engine emergency landing.

The passengers, Mr. and Mrs. James Kress, Green Bay, Wis., piled into a rented car and continued their trip to Sun Valley, Ida.

Pilots Phil Roshong and C. M. Smythe said the plane's port engine went out near Big Piney, Wyo., about 100 miles northeast of Logan.

Forest Roads Lag

BOISE, Feb. 18 (UP)—Gov. Robert E. Smylie says the forest highway program in Idaho "has lagged behind both our general highway program and the interstate highway program."

In his weekly news column, Smylie urged allocation of an increased proportion of federal highway money to roads in national forest areas.

Death Claims Buhl Woman

BUHL, Feb. 18—Mrs. Elsie Marie Stiegemeier, 60, route 4, Buhl, died Wednesday evening at the Magic Valley Memorial hospital, Twin Falls, after an extended illness.

She was born at Harvard, Nebr., Sept. 30, 1899, and was married to Henry J. Stiegemeier there, Aug. 23, 1923. They came to Twin Falls in 1940 from Harvard and in 1951 moved to Buhl.

Mrs. Stiegemeier was a member of St. John's Lutheran church, Buhl, the Lutheran Woman's Missionary league and Cedar Draw club.

Survivors include her husband, two sons, Keith Stiegemeier and Neil Stiegemeier, both Buhl; three brothers, Erwin Bleck and Alfard Bleck, both Harvard, and Harold Bleck, Tekamah, Nebr.; two sisters, Mrs. Orval Neff, Timbermill, Va., and Mrs. Harold Davidson, Gering, Nebr.; five grandchildren and her father, John M. Bleck, Harvard.

Funeral services will be announced by the Albertson funeral home.

Escaped?

BUENOS AIRES, Feb. 18 (UPI)—The mystery submarine which had been reported lurking in the Argentine navy's Nuevo gulf maneuver area appears to have escaped to the open sea, it was reported today.

The navy refused to confirm reports from the gulf saying that the sub was detected and attacked Tuesday night by Argentine warships making contact with it for the first time in more than 36 hours.

It was uncertain whether a second submarine which had been reported maneuvering in the Craker gulf, apparently trying to take some pressure off its sister ship in the Nuevo gulf, was still in the area.

Youths Nabbed

RUPERT, Feb. 18 — Two youths apprehended by Rupert city police Tuesday night for stealing gasoline have been released to their parents.

Kenneth Eppers, 19, and Maylon Bessire, 17, Acequia, were taking gas from a pickup truck, owned by the Union Pacific railroad, which was parked near the Herbold potato cellar on the west edge of town when they were apprehended by Policeman John Green and Earl Clayton, assisted by Sheriff Theo Johnson.

Mullan Man Shot

MULLAN, Feb. 18 (UPI) — A young father of four children was shot to death at his home last night by a thief, who fled into the darkness and escaped.

The killer was still at large today and Sheriff Lewis Gardner said officers did not even have a description of him. Victim of the killing was Jack Whitmore, 32.

also requires three letters of recommendation for character and citizenship and a health examination. The basic yearly cost was placed at about $1,200.

Kunkel, of Northwest Nazarene college, stressed that the institution is a private college with a four-year program up to a bachelor of arts degree available. Requirements are a high school diploma or the equivalent, transcript of records, character recommendations and physical examination. Kunkel said the yearly costs of attending would average a little higher than that of a public institution. He pointed out that any qualified enrollee will be accepted.

Ricks, of Ricks college, said the institution has a current enrollment of about 954 students and any qualified high school graduate can enroll. Ricks said also that in particular cases where a high school student has less than a semester to complete in the secondary school he may enroll in the college, if qualified, and begin college work.

Miss Miles told the group that Boise Junior college was the first school in the state to start the accelerated two-year nursing program. Miss Miles said the program was an experiment to determine if qualified registered nurses could be graduated in two years instead of the previously required three-year term.

She stated that the program has proven successful and that 17 students were graduated last year as registered nurses. Miss Miles said that the student nurses carry a course load of 18 units instead of the average maximum unit load of 16. She said the trainees also work in hospitals up to 20 hours during the week.

Jury Is Told Testimony for Death Penalty

(From Page One)

Schoonover from the gallows. May declined to say how many witnesses he intended to call or who they are, but declared unconditionally that Schoonover would take the stand in his own defense.

Testimony in the trial began Wednesday afternoon after the final juror was selected about 2:16 p.m.

The first witness to be called Wednesday was Doug Kalvelstrom, desk sergeant at the Twin Falls police station. The officer told of receiving the long distance call that led to finding of the body and also told of dispatching officers to No. 45 Washington courts where the victim lived.

The second witness was Twin Falls Police Detective Claude Wiley, who made the initial investigation at the murder scene. Wiley told the court what he found when he entered the modest cabin. A third witness, Ralph Ferris, No. 49 Washington courts, told the court that he and the murder suspect drank beer together about two hours prior to the murder.

When Schoonover's attorney, J. Alfred May, looked at the photographs, the murder suspect ducked his head and fidgeted with his clothing, and refused to look at the pictures of the victim.

County Coroner J. Woodson Creed testified that it took from 15 to 30 minutes for Mrs. Turner to die and that she died by strangulation. When the body was discovered there was a bathrobe cord around her neck. Dr. Creed said, however, the cord was placed around her neck after she was dead.

City Officer Chad Thompson, one of the arresting officers, testified that Schoonover asked him at the time of the arrest, "Is she dead?"

Thompson said he told Schoonover, "You should know," and that the murder suspect answered, "You're damn right she's dead. I'm glad."

Other officers testifying were City Officers Roy Lindell and Deputy Wayne Hankins, who were among the arresting officers. Lindell also told of going to the murder scene and later searching for Schoonover.

It has been estimated there are more than 12,000 laundries in the United States.

Teen-Age Law Draws Praise And Criticism

victed of a moving violation his license is revoked for 60 days. Upon a second conviction his license is revoked for not less than six months or until the driver reaches 16—whichever is longer.

If the driver is under 18 and at least 16 his license is revoked for 60 days for the first conviction. The license is revoked for not less than six months upon a second conviction or until the driver is 18—whichever is longer.

The court determines whether the violator will be charged under the new law or under the youth rehabilitation act. Under the latter a juvenile can be charged as an adult.

The new law does not have a provision dealing with those accused of driving while intoxicated or reckless driving. Juveniles are charged for those violations under other sections of the state law.

In a letter to the department of law enforcement, Assistant Attorney General Jebb Owens said that penalties of other sections of the law could also be added "at the discretion of the magistrate depending upon the gravity of the violation and the age of the minor."

Judge Bistline said that in cases of more serious violations he may "add a few additional days to the suspension."

There was a wide difference of opinion on the law among law enforcement authorities.

Man Is Guilty of Defraud Charges

BOISE, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Robert S. Snyder yesterday was found guilty by a federal court jury of using the U. S. mail to defraud and of conspiracy.

He was sentenced to nine months in prison on each count by Federal Judge Chase Clark, the sentences to run concurrently. Two other persons originally were involved in the case which stemmed from sales of vending machines in the Northwest.

Jack Hoag pleaded no contest and was put on two years probation. Tuesday Donald Lemke was acquitted after Clark granted a motion by the defense to that effect.

Herter Tells Of 'Mistake' War Danger

promiscuous spread of production of nuclear weapons" is a danger which "we, our major allies, and the Soviet Union should all view with real concern."

He did not mention France's recent success in exploding a nuclear weapon but this has been much on the minds of all U.S. officials.

Herter said more is needed than reaching agreement on a safeguarded test ban and drawing up effective controls against surprise attack. He said the major powers must also place "manpower ceilings" on national forces and transfer "designated quantities of controversial armaments" to international control to achieve a really "stable military environment."

Herter welcomed, as President Eisenhower did yesterday, Russia's offer to let western inspection teams make a limited number of checks of suspicious tremors on Soviet territory if there were a total test ban. He said the United States "will give the proposal very careful consideration" because it "may reflect a changing view of the inspection procedures that are acceptable to the Soviet government."

Herter plotted a longer range approach to general disarmament which he said should be undertaken as soon as the initial steps to stabilize the present military situation have been accomplished. He said that the objective in the longer range should be:

"First, to create universally accepted rules of law which, if followed, would prevent all nations from attacking other nations. Such rules of law should be backed by a world court and by effective means of enforcement—that is, by international armed force;

"Second, to reduce national armed forces, under safeguarded and verified arrangements, to the point where no single nation or group of nations could effectively oppose this enforcement of international law by international machinery."

Herter noted that the United States is presently consulting here with representatives of the four other nations which will represent the West at the Geneva disarmament talks—Britain, Canada, Italy and France—to hammer out a coordinated new approach.

He said that "the peril that confronts every man, woman and child in the world today is too great to admit of anything but the most strenuous, devoted and persistent effort to this end."

The secretary said the United States hopes "that the Soviet leaders may be coming to realize that the arms race offers unacceptable risks. This realization could induce them to attach a high priority to progress in arms control, as being in their own national interest."

Foreign Aid Secrecy Will Be Loosened

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—The state department, fighting to head off threatened cuts in President Eisenhower's foreign aid request, promised today to take the secrecy label off more of the aid program than ever before.

Undersecretary of State C. Douglas Dillon told the house foreign affairs committee in prepared testimony that details never before made public were being "declassified" in response to congressional complaints.

The President asked congress Tuesday for $4,175,000,000 in economic and military aid for the nation's allies in the fiscal year starting July 1. This is substantially more than congress provided for the current year.

Secretary of State Christian A. Herter told the foreign affairs group yesterday the new request was the minimum sum necessary to carry on the fight against continuing communist efforts to take over the world.

Dillon, defending the latest request and the aid record of past years as well, told the committee the mutual security program "has been a successful one and its achievements are striking."

He conceded that errors had been made but said steps had been taken to prevent their recurrence.

Contracts for Area Settlers Are Discussed

RUPERT, Feb. 18—Forty-eight members of the Unit A Settler's association met Tuesday night with bureau of reclamation officials from the Burley and Boise offices to discuss the repayment contracts for water users on the unit.

The local group stated that since their situation was so different from that of the users with deep well irrigation that some consideration should be given to differentials in the contracts.

Unit A users get irrigation water from Snake river by pumps and storage reservoirs while the Northside and Unit B use wells.

Officials of the bureau attending the meeting were Boyd Austin, assistant regional director, Boise; William Burppee, attorney and field solicitor for the Boise office of the secretary of the interior; Dean Boyle, chief of settlement; Claude Maffgiser, repayment statistics department, and Gordon Whittaker, regional adviser of irrigation, all Boise.

Since 1962 is the deadline for any changes to be made in the contracts, the settlers group felt that the matter should be brought up and an attempt made to reach an agreement as soon as possible.

Leland Reif, chairman for the group, said that there was no particular feeling of discontent among the water users, but that they felt that the matter merited consideration.

Hailey Snow, Ice Cause Accidents

HAILEY, Feb. 18—High snowbanks and icy roads in Hailey have made it necessary for auto drivers to go at "snails pace" when approaching intersections.

Several accidents have been reported which were caused by these conditions, one of which involved Mrs. George F. McCoy and Donald Gelskey.

Mrs. Gelskey had stopped at the intersection of Carbonate and Second avenue to yield the right-of-way. Mrs. McCoy came into the intersection to make a right hand turn and when she saw the Gelskey car, applied her brakes and her car slid into the Gelskey auto.

Damage to the Gelskey car was estimated at $80 and the McCoy car, $58. Neither driver was injured.

Water Survey Is Approved For Gooding

GOODING, Feb. 18—City councilmen voted to accept the offer of Wendell Smith for $750 to make a preliminary survey and study of the present system and a high pressure system for irrigation, at the regular meeting of the board Monday evening at the city hall.

It was decided to invest the $5,000 in the special sewer reserve fund in government bonds.

William Bolton was granted permission by the board to build a shop building on lots seven and eight of block 28. The enclosed section of the building will be 40 by 50-feet and constructed of cement and pumice block with a sheet metal roof. The east and west extensions will comply with the fire zone requirements which does not allow frame construction with sheet metal siding.

Also granted was a 1960 beer license to the Lincoln Inn and a plumbing and a gas fitting contractor license to the Triangle Heating and Plumbing company. The sewer charge for the Ranch Bowl will be $7 per month.

J. C. Moore was instructed to make a check to determine if the floor of the library is sufficiently supported since members of the library expressed concern of the matter.

William Henry, Ed Morris and Bernard Thompson, representing the rural fire district, agreed to pay $1,500 to the city as their share of expenses for the 1960 fire season. Members of the board voted that insurance by the rural fire district be allowed as a blanket coverage on the city policy.

It was decided to vote yes on the ballot for new bylaws for International Conference of Building Officials, Inc.

Guest speaker, was Brig. Gen. James Trail, Boise, who serves on the board of directors of the Idaho Air Force association.

He explained the purpose of the AFA and gave a brief history of the association. He spoke on the national *defense system and ex*plained the U.S. position in the race for space with Russia.

Representatives of the air force, civil air patrol, West Coast airlines, the air force reserve, and other interested persons attended.

Lieut. Col. Joseph White, 13th air division, Mountain Home air force base, invited the group to tour the base.

Louis B. E. Dauplaise, Twin Falls, was master of ceremonies. Warren Murphy, Twin Falls, temporary membership chairman of the Twin Falls AFA chapter, explained that anyone interested in air power may join the association.

Murphy said the association is a civilian organization and that anyone who would like to join should attend the next meeting at 8 p.m. March 2, in the Turf club Parachute room.

Murphy added that the chapter bylaws currently are being written and that officers will be elected at the next meeting.

Style Show Is Featured for PTA Meeting

JEROME, Feb. 18 — Jefferson PTA honored Founder's day Tuesday evening with Mrs. Laurel Ploss presenting fashions from 1897, the year PTA was founded, to 1900.

Models for the fashion show were Mrs. Robert Peterson, Mrs. Fred Siemons, Mrs. Glen Reddick, Mrs. Lyle King, Mrs. James Prunty, Mrs. Wayne Peterson, Mrs. David Summey, Mrs. Cliff Harris, Mrs. Eldon Driesel, Mrs. Dale Burkhalter, Mrs. Bert Wright, Jean White, Mrs. Dutton and Mrs. Clair Pife.

Mrs. Marshall Fisher was pianist and she and Mrs. Dale Tanner sang two duets during the show, accompanied by Mrs. Walter Bentzinger. Mrs. Ernest Coupe, narrator, told of PTA projects during the last 63 years.

Bert Wright, co-president, told of the achievements of the Jefferson PTA which was organized Oct. 20, 1956. Since that time the PTA has purchased coffee cups for the school, held two carnivals with a total profit of almost $800; purchased traverse rods and new drapes for the stage and kitchen; purchased bicycle racks and various playground equipment, and paid for a set of encyclopedias.

Wright read a petition to the city of Jerome, endorsing permanent licensing of bicycles. The petition also requested that all removable parts of the bicycle be marked with the license number. The suggested price of the license was one dollar. The fee for trans*fer of ownership would be fifty* cents. The group voted to unanimously endorse the petition.

Mr. and Mrs. Elba Pielstick and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Abundis, past co-presidents, were presented a gift. Mr. and Mrs. Eynon Ward, who were not present, are also past presidents.

Mrs. Ernest Coupe, J. R. Churchman and Mrs. Harry Crippin were appointed to serve on the nominating committee.

Hal Walker, chairman, reported on the carnival which will be held March 25. He told the group that members will be contacted this week to assist. The money will be used for back stops for the softball area and some lower basketball hoops for the young children. An additional set of encyclopedias also was mentioned.

Room count was won by Mrs. Peterson, Mrs. Estes Rowlands and Mrs. Cox. A silver offering was taken which will be used to further the services of state and national PTA. Refreshments were served by the executive board.

License Plate Sales Are up For Lincoln

SHOSHONE, Feb. 18 — License plates sales were up in Lincoln county this year over last in all except trailer house plates, Ray E. Oyer, assessor, reports.

Thus far this year there have been 1,150 passenger auto plates sold, compared to 1,113 for 1959; 539 truck plates compared to 523 a year ago; 104 small trailer licenses compared to 100 a year ago and 20 trailer house plates compared to 24 last year.

The difference in the trailer house number may be accredited to the new law that has provided if the house is not moved it does not need the new license, Oyer noted.

There have been three boat licenses sold this year while a year ago there were only two.

The increase in license sales for passenger cars this year runs about four per cent. Whether there has been an increase in population or whether there have been more families with the second car has not been determined.

Oyer noted that 24 automobiles of foreign make were registered in the county this year and two of that number use diesel fuel instead of gasoline.

Mrs. Lula Hall assists the county assessor in his work.

Financing Charges Hit High Point, Run Into Usury Law

By STERLING F. GREEN

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—If you are appalled at the financing charges you must pay to buy a home, you have a reason.

They are at about the highest point in 30 years, and have bumped into the usury laws of some states.

Some mortgages, it is suspected in Washington, may actually have violated usury statutes, although it would take a court action to find out for sure.

For that reason, the government's federal national mortgage association recently refused to buy a dozen or so mortgages offered for sale by Tennessee lenders, until their legality was attested.

That was a rather remarkable incident. In effect, one federal agency declined to accept obligations insured by another agency—the federal housing administration—for fear the paper would be found illegal and void.

Among the 11 states whose usury laws forbid interest charges higher than six per cent, some have considered raising the ceiling so as not to choke off housing credit.

Builders and organized real estate dealers recently have attacked what they called excessive discounts demanded by lenders.

When the builder of a new house finds a buyer, he usually sells the mortgage to a bank or loan company, which will collect the monthly payments. When money is tight, the builder has to take a discount on the mortgage; in other words, he accepts less for it than its face value.

Lawyers generally agree that a discount cannot be construed as part of the interest charge, even though the home buyer may pay for it ultimately. The builder who knows he will have to take a discount may simply jack up the price of the house to cover it.

Builders recently have reported lenders in some areas asking discounts of up to 10 or 12 per cent.

The federal housing agencies are showing some nervousness over the situation, because the FHA permits a 5¾ per cent interest rate on loans which it insures—just under the usury level of several states.

On top of that is added ½ of one per cent as an insurance premium, bringing the total charge to 6¼ per cent in the first year of the mortgage. If the insurance charge were held to be interest, the usury limit would be exceeded in Delaware, Kentucky, Maryland, New Jersey, New York, North Carolina, Pennsylvania, Tennessee, Vermont, Virginia and West Virginia.

However a Tennessee court has held in a test case that the insurance premium is not interest. Maryland's attorney general has ruled to the same effect.

But on certain low-cost homes involving mortgages of less than $8,000, the FHA permits the lender to add still another ½ of one per cent as a "service charge." This is intended to compensate the lender for the higher cost of handling a small mortgage.

That was the type of mortgage which FNMA questioned, and sent back, pending formal assurance of its legality.

This was FNMA's concern: If a home owner could obtain a court ruling that the mortgage was usurious, FNMA would be holding a worthless piece of paper.

SPECIAL PRIVILEGE SPORTSMEN

It's not surprising that sportsmen's organizations throughout the state are up in arms over plans of the Associated Sportsmen of America to lease land from Idaho ranchers for exclusive hunting and fishing rights.

Reports have it that the organization known as the Associated Sportsmen of America is made up largely of wealthy Californians desirous of sewing up some of the choicest fishing and hunting areas in Idaho.

Actually their plans are even more ambitious than appears on the surface. They expect to make land-use options available soon to ranchers in Utah, Colorado, Wyoming, Oregon, Washington and Montana.

The idea is nothing new, so far as that's concerned. But it's one every Idaho sportsman should guard against for his own protection.

In Michigan, years ago, the same sort of scheme was tried out by wealthy sportsmen from Detroit and other metropolitan cities in that part of the country.

They leased land for mile after mile, posted it with their own signs, employed their own game wardens and even tried to prohibit access to some of that state's best fishing and duck hunting lakes.

They even went so far as seeking the privilege of shooting on their own leased lands several weeks in advance of the general hunting season. They asked this privilege in return for raising pheasants on the privately-held land, the argument being that they were entitled to shoot most of the pheasant population thus produced. It was argued that many of the pheasants raised on leased land flew over to open land and thus made hunting even better for non-members.

Before it was all over, this condition precipitated a near revolution, such as could be expected in Idaho unless plans now under way are nipped in the bud right at the outset.

No one should be lulled into complacency by the Associated Sportsman's promises of providing patrolmen, carrying insurance on all livestock and property on land involved, donations of feed and aid in the state's wildlife restocking programs.

It should be as obvious as the nose on anyone's face that the Associated Sportsmen of America are motivated by only one underlying purpose, and that's to tie up choice hunting grounds and fishing streams to as great an extent as possible.

Although Ross Leonard, director of the Idaho fish and game department, has promised "any legal action possible" to prevent a group of individuals from signing up farmland in Idaho for exclusive use of group members, Idaho sportsmen should be expecting even more determined action.

Leonard has indicated his department will go before the next session of the state legislature, if necessary, to keep any such movement as that now under way from getting out of control.

We know of no development in recent years anywhere near as serious from the Idaho sportsman's standpoint. Although the members of the state fish and game commission are not scheduled to hold a regular meeting until April, it would appear to us that a special meeting is in order because of this new development.

The sportsmen of Idaho are entitled to know just how the commissioners stand on any such proposal, and what steps will be taken to guard against the movement getting out of hand.

Idaho sportsmen should never compromise with any proposal that denies them equal rights to hunt and fish in this state.

Encouraging outsiders to come to Idaho is one thing, but allowing them to gain special privileges is entirely something else. There's a place to draw the line and we had better get it drawn before it's too late.

CONGRATULATIONS TO BURLEY

Announcement of construction plans for a $2,000,000 potato processing plant for frozen food in the Burley area should be welcome news to all Magic Valley.

The plant, to be erected by Idaho Industries, Inc., will process about 10 different frozen potato products. Construction of the 150- by 840-foot building is expected to start within 10 days.

When completed, the plant will begin operation with about 700 employes, which number the company hopes to increase to 1,200 in the future.

Plans call for completing the building by next August, in time to begin actual processing in September.

During the last several years, Burley has been fortunate in securing several new industries, related principally to potato processing.

All Magic Valley will benefit from this new development in and around Burley, not only because it provides more employment and brings new wealth to this part of Idaho, but helps create a better market for potatoes as well.

TUCKER'S NATIONAL WHIRLIGIG

WASHINGTON — A veteran Georgia Democrat recognized on and off capitol hill as "the father of the modern American navy" has come to the defense of President Eisenhower in the great debate over the nation's military power and preparedness for a clash with Russia.

Ray Tucker

Deprecating current charges and countercharges on this controversial issue of the presidential year, he attributes them to the approach of the election. Gently but positively, he suggests that these nonseasonal Fourth of July orators "keep their shirts on," and trust the American people to meet future emergencies as they have in World wars I and II, and in Korea.

The quiet but effective voice in the midst of partisan clamors is that of Rep. Carl Vinson, chairman of the house armed services committee and head of the naval affairs committee for many years before the consolidation of the army, navy and air force.

• • •

VINSON BANKS CONFIDENTLY ON EISENHOWER — His recent speech before the midwinter banquet of the U.S. Reserve Officers' association was generally misreported as extremely critical of the administration's policies. The actual transcript, however, as verified by him, places him in disagreement with many prominent Democrats, including the four senatorial seekers after the party's presidential nomination.

After noting that the "bipartisan" spirit on national defense and foreign affairs usually vanishes in election years, he said:

"I, for one, still cling to the old-time nonpartisan bipartisanship. And to prove it, I want to make this clear: As regards the kind of military protection our country should have, I will bank proudly and confidently on one of the great commanders of all history—Dwight D. Eisenhower."

Vinson also defended the President against Kennedy-Johnson-Symington-Humphrey charges that Eisenhower had sacrificed the nation's military needs on the altar of a balanced budget.

• • •

PRAISES PEOPLE FOR PAYING HEAVY TAXES — "I cannot agree," he said, "that the stability of our currency, the vigor of our economy, the spirit of our citizenry and the cost consciousness of the Pentagon are sworn enemies of our nation's strength."

In discussing military preparedness as reflected in congressional appropriations, Vinson praised the forebearance of the American people in paying such heavy taxes for national defense and foreign aid, and appeared to criticize congress.

He conceded that the legislators had reduced budget requests for national security by only three per cent during the last 14 years. But, despite the communist menace, the invasion of South Korea and turbulence in many other areas during that period, he pointed out that congress had increased Pentagon requests only in three years over that period for a total of $1,700,000,000.

• • •

WHO WOULD CHOOSE RUSSIAN STRENGTH OVER OWN?—Representative Vinson also agreed with administration and Pentagon military experts that, in preparing for a possible conflict with Russia, the United States must assume "calculated risks."

If the various service heads did not agree as to the nation's needs, he said, a dispute which confuses congress and the public, he declared that "I would truly cry out: 'God save the Republic!' "

In closing a speech which has attracted great attention on capitol hill and at the White House, in Republican and Democratic political circles, the veteran Georgian asked what he considers to be the basic and central question of the great debate:

"Where today is our leader, military or civilian, who would choose for the American people the Soviet strength complex of today or tomorrow in preference to our own?"

VIEWS OF OTHERS

A STOCKMAN'S VIEW

The following letter has made the rounds of Wyoming newspapers and was recently printed in a national publication. It is credited to a Midwest rancher, Van Irvine, and is supposed to have been sent to Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson.

"Dear Mr. Secretary:

"My friend, J. Wellington Foulfellow, in Iowa received a $1,000 check from the government this year for not raising hogs. So I am going into the not-raising-hog-business next year.

"What I want to know is, in your opinion, what is the best kind of farm not to raise hogs on and the best kind of hogs not to raise. I would prefer not to raise razor-backs, but, if that is not a good breed not to raise, I will just as gladly not raise any Berkshires or Durocs.

"The hardest work in this business is going to be in keeping an inventory of how many hogs I haven't raised. My friend, Foulfellow, is very joyful about the future of this business. He has been raising hogs for more than 20 years and the best he ever made was $400 until this year, when he got $1,000 for not raising 50 hogs.

"If I can get $1,000 for not raising 50 hogs then will I get $2,000 for not raising 100 hogs?

"I plan to operate on a small scale at first, holding myself down to about 4,000 hogs, which means I will make $80,000.

"Now another thing, these hogs I will not raise will not eat 100,000 bushels of corn. I understand that you may also pay farmers for not raising corn, so will you pay me anything for not raising 100,000 bushels of corn not to feed the hogs I am not raising?

"I want to get started as soon as possible as this seems to be a good time of the year for not raising hogs."

Van Irvine
Midwest, Wyoming

"P. S. Can I raise 10 or 12 hogs on the side while I am in the not-raising-hog-business . . . just enough to get a few sides of bacon to eat?"—Thermopolis (Wyoming) Independent.

IMPROVE THE ANTI-STRIKE LAWS

Has the United States learned nothing from the costly four-month nationwide steel strike last fall? Or having learned, must it forget because 1960 is an election year?

Since the strike finally was settled, but only after billions of dollars of loss in wages, production and taxes, and since congressmen want to leave Washington this summer to engage in campaigning, the thought is being too widely accepted that nothing will be done this year to remedy the lack of legislative authority shown to exist for dealing with major strike situations.

Senators Javits and Aiken have introduced a bill which would make a good basis for needed legislation. It would authorize the President to name a fact-finding board whenever the "national health, safety or welfare" should be endangered. He thus could act earlier than under present law. He would also be authorized to ask the board to recommend terms of settlement.

This would enable the President to act earlier than under the Taft-Hartley act and would not leave the board of inquiry tongue-tied. There are further provisions regarding plant seizure in the Javits-Aiken bill which may be more debatable. But the present session of congress should certainly provide for boards of inquiry which can act promptly and can give the public the benefit of their findings.—The Christian Science Monitor.

CONGRESS OPENS

The opening of the second session of the 86th congress was accompanied by a news item which, more than any other we've seen, suggested what is mainly on the leadership's mind. The report said Speaker Rayburn (who was 78 yesterday) "expected" congress to wind up July 10, the day before the Democratic national convention opens in Los Angeles. That is a political promise the nation may count on being kept.—San Francisco Chronicle.

GENTLEMAN IN THE FOURTH ROW

WASHINGTON

By PETER EDSON

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The Democratic legislative program and recommendations of the AFL-CIO are amazingly similar in most respects and in conflict on almost none.

The Democratic program was outlined by Lyndon Johnson, Texas, senate majority leader, in his recent Indianapolis speech. The AFL-CIO program was adopted at its January executive committee meeting in Washington.

Peter Edson

In four fields the proposals are broadly the same:

Raise minimum wages to $1.25 an hour. Aid to depressed areas. Guarantee civil rights. Health benefits for the aged.

In two fields, housing and schools, there are differences only in degree. Johnson wants to "reverse the downward spiral on new housing starts." AFL-CIO has a bigger program of "decent homes for all."

On federal aid to education the AFL-CIO wants the two-billion-dollar bill which the senate has passed, but which the house may scale down to escape a possible veto.

• • •

Senator Johnson's program adds these five items:

Make America second to none in the space age. Get other nations to share foreign aid programs. Modernize and improve the social security system. Start a program of conservation and public works. Give the farmer equity of income.

The AFL-CIO lists these six additional objectives:

Protect the family farmer. Promote economic growth. Overhaul the tax system. Improve unemployment insurance benefits. Revise fair labor standards legislation. Develop America's resources; particularly atomic power.

• • •

There are overlaps in the lists just above. The variations are largely in emphasis or detail. Democratic and labor leaders could get together on them without strain.

Charitably, the parallels could be ascribed to coincidence or similarity of objective. Both groups would deny that one dictated to the other, though the Republicans accuse them both. Also, it isn't necessary to describe which program is chicken, which egg, and which came first.

But the interesting point for the voter in this election year is to compare these lists with the Eisenhower Republican administration legislative program. It reveals some similarities, but more differences.

The civil rights programs are roughly similar. It now appears that whatever congress does about them this year will be a compromise of all proposals or nothing at all.

Any farm program passed will also be a compromise.

On aid to education, aid to depressed areas, development of natural resources and new public works starts the Democrats would simply spend more than the GOP proposes.

• • •

The Eisenhower administration may come up with a medical-care-for-the-aged plan that will meet Democratic and labor recommendations, at least part way.

The Eisenhower administration does not go as far as the Democratic-labor program on raising minimum wages, broadening unemployment insurance coverage, raising unemployment benefits or amending labor standards legislation.

The Eisenhower administration makes these four additional recommendations which Democrats and labor oppose:

Increase postal rates. Raise taxes on aviation gasoline. Raise interest rates on long-term government bonds. Revise laws on taxation of cooperatives, in effect increasing interest rates on rural electric and telephone loans.

The Eisenhower "food for peace" plan was originally put forward by Senator Hubert Humphrey, D., Minn.

Senator Johnson's idea on other nation's sharing foreign aid costs was originally an Eisenhower administration proposal.

National Guard Muster Day Set On Next Monday

The purpose of muster day is to commemorate the days when the militia, now the national guard, was mustered annually to see how many able-bodied men were available to bear arms in the event of an emergency.

In proclaiming muster day, Smylie paid tribute to the Idaho national guard for its outstanding job and called on the citizens of the state to pay tribute to the national guardsmen.

The governor noted that continuance of the national guard in instant readiness was vital to the military preparedness and security of the United States.

Turkey, Ham Loom as Top Grocery Buy

By The Associated Press

Turkey and ham loom as likely candidates for your diner Sunday, judging by specials at many supermarkets and neighborhood groceries.

Higher prices around the end of the year influenced turkey growers to produce more birds this year than they had planned earlier. The agriculture department looks for a six per cent higher crop overall, with an increase of 12 per cent for heavy breeds but a decrease of 18 per cent in light breeds.

Bargains in hams stem from continued heavy marketings of last spring's record pig crop. Sharply higher frozen stocks are expected to lessen the usual seasonal swings in pork prices during the late spring and summer.

Pork chops are up sharply over a wide area this week, while fair-sized increases also are shown for beef rib roast in a smaller area. Butter and eggs are slightly higher in a few, scattered sections.

Cabbage, carrots and lettuce are included on this week's list of outstanding buys. Other best buys include Florida celery, mushrooms, small to medium yellow onions, green peas, potatoes, escaole, endive and sweet potatoes.

Early western asparagus is quite expensive, while those who like corn, chinese cabbage, cucumbers, eggplant, green onions and tomatoes will have to pay a bit more than usual.

Outstanding bargains among fruits include eastern apples (although many are reaching a ripe condition and you'll have to shop carefully), grapefruit, oranges, pineapples, bananas and honeydew melons from Chile.

LONDON, Feb. 18 (UPI) — Lord Birdwood is back from the United Nations and he has a story to tell.

Lord Birdwood, a delegate to the world body's last session, told an audience yesterday about a "very under-developed country which applied for aid to improve its cattle."

Lord Birdwood said the United Nations sent an investigator to find out why no progress.

"What's wrong?" the investigator asked the bull.

"I am a representative of the United States," the bull replied. "I am only here in an advisory capacity."

Auto Safety Features Seen Vital for Ordinary Drivers

By HENRY McLEMORE

McLemore

I'm about as handy with tools as a bushman, but I am hard at work with hammer, chisel, vise, and screwdriver these days.

I am putting a roll bar on the family car— a roll bar being a half-circle of steel which prevents the top from caving in in case of a flip-over.

When that is finished, I am going to install seat belts all around.

I decided upon these safety features after being an eye witness to the all-time automobile pile-up on the new Daytonia International Speedway last week.

In this monumental traffic accident, no fewer than 37 cars, all of them moving at better than 100 miles per hour, got in a violent argument on the east turn of the two and one-half-mile asphalt oval and created a mammoth junk pile in 30 to 40 seconds.

Cars were flipped, up-ended, rolled over, hit from behind, knocked sideways, bounced into the air, looped and whammed broadside. A dozen were demolished and the others will never be the same until given a thorough facial.

At the height of the melee, which took place only 70 seconds after the start of a 250-mile race for sportsman-modified machines, it looked as if Ford, General Motors, and Chrysler, had declared a three-way war, and were sending in their products as assault troops.

It looked as if a dozen drivers must surely die, and the rest finish in the hospital.

But what happened?

Only eight were taken to the hospital, and four of them were released after emegency treatment. The others suffered less than serious injuries.

The happy ending to what appeared to be a major tragedy was the result of roll bars, safety belts, and doors that didn't fly open under impact.

The drivers, although all professionals and highly skilled in handling out-of-control cars, cannot be given any credit for the lack of fatalities.

There was no room for maneuver. The drivers just sat tight, or ducked low, and held on until their cars came to a rest.

Why, one wonders, doesn't Detroit make roll bars, safety belts and stay-locked doors standard equipment? Or optional, at least? A man should have a chance to pay extra for safety, as well as for ornamentation.

Even if the addition of a roll bar costs $200—and I have heard its cost estimated at that—lots of Americans would be willing to go for the extra chunk. And for the belts and the stay-locked doors, too.

It couldn't be that Detroit is afraid that a roll bar would spoil the beauty of a car. Designers would find a way to incorporate it into the body so that it would add a touch of beauty.

As for safety belts, they should be a must. They cost only a few dollars, and if Detroit thinks their addition would imply that cars weren't safe, and would cut sales, they have automobile drivers read all wrong.

My argument is that if professional drivers need all possible safety measures, then we ordinary drivers need them twice as much. We don't drive at speeds of 100, 125 and 150 miles per hour, but we do go fast enough to take all precautions possible.

I may even start wearing a helmet, taking it off only at stop lights.

Most Leaders Are Provided For Campaign

After a meeting with chapter members and volunteers Tuesday afternoon, J. P. (Pat) O'Connor, chairman of the 1960 American Red Cross fund drive, reported leadership has been provided for most of the committee posts, with the need for Twin Falls residential solicitors the biggest remaining problem before the March 1 kick-off.

"To reach our goal, we must contact every person in Twin Falls, Kimberly, Hollister, Murtaugh, Hansen and other surrounding areas. If only the persons who have benefited from the Red Cross services the past year were to volunteer, we would have more workers than we could use," O'Connor said.

Pointing out that hundreds of persons had received blood from the Red Cross blood donor programs; first aid and home nursing courses, as well as American Red Cross swimming instruction and home services, O'Connor urged housewives willing to cover a block in their own residential area, to contact R. J. Schwendiman, chairman for this portion of the fund campaign.

Herbert Knight, deputy director of fund raising for the Pacific area and Ray J. Holmes, regional fund vice-chairman, assisted O'Connor in the planning session.

Another special aide, Robert Hager, will arrive in Twin Falls next week to aid the local chapter with the fund campaign, to replace Clarence Cooper, who became ill while helping the chapter coordinate its program, David Withall, field director, Boise, announced at the Tuesday meeting.

The fund workers participated in a special workshop Wednesday led by James T. Nicholson, former executive vice president of the American National Red Cross, after a luncheon and address by Nicholson at the Rogerson hotel Round-up room.

Lions Clubs' Sale Termed "Successful"

Twin Falls Lions clubs sold an estimated $1,000 worth of rugs, mats and brooms Wednesday evening for the benefit of Live, Inc., an organization of handicapped persons who earn their living by making the articles.

Norman Garlington, co-chairman of the Twin Falls Lions sales committee, said that the response was "terrific," and added that the sale will continue Thursday from 5 p.m. until the remaining merchandise is sold. He said there are 20 mats, 45 brooms and 70 rugs left to be sold.

Before the sale started at 5 p.m. Wednesday, the clubs had 120 mats, 240 brooms and 240 rugs.

Robert V. Olson is co-chairman with Garlington on the sales committee. Dick's Donut shop furnished coffee and doughnuts for club members participating in the sale.

New York Fallout Shelter Plan OK'd

ALBANY, N. Y., Feb. 18 (AP)—A billion-dollar, pioneer program for mandatory construction of fallout shelters in every home and building in New York state was recommended to Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller yesterday.

Property owners would pay for their own shelters, which would be designed to protect occupants from radioactive fallout after nuclear attack.

The estimated cost per family type shelter would be $200.

The plan will run into stiff opposition in the legislature. GOP majority leaders were said to be initially cool to the proposals.

Official Dies

POCATELLO, Feb. 18 (AP)—Lawrence Edward Glennon, a former district judge and Idaho legislator, died yesterday after a long illness. He was 79.

Glennon was born in Missouri and came to Idaho in 1904. He taught in the Boise valley for a year and later was state representative from Custer.

Appraisal Is Required for Land Buying

BOISE, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Idaho board of examiners voted yesterday to require appraisals by the state land department before approval is given for any state agency—except the highway department—to buy land.

The action resulted from complaints by Attorney General Frank L. Benson at the price paid by the state fish and game department for two tracts of land in northern Idaho.

Purchase Approved

The board approved purchase of both tracts but said it would authorize none in the future without an appraisal report.

Payment of $10,200 for a 12.7-acre tract of land on Granite creek in Bonner county for a spawn-taking station and of $18,000 for 10 acres in the Lewiston Orchards area for a game farm was approved.

"Lots of people are trying to stick the state," Benson said. "I think these prices are too high."

But Lieut. Gov. William E. Drevlow, acting chairman of the board in the absence of Gov. Robert E. Smylie, and Secretary of State Arnold Williams said they felt the amounts were reasonable, in view of the location of the land.

Cheaper Land Urged

Referring to the game farm, Benson asked: "Why do they have to put it there? Why can't they get land cheaper somewhere else?"

He then moved to prevent further purchases without an appraisal report from the state land department.

"That doesn't include the highway department, does it?" Williams asked. "We don't have any jurisdiction over them."

"I'll except the highway department," Benson said. "They don't pay any more than they have to anyway."

Williams seconded Benson's motion and all three members voted for it.

Stubblefield Twin Leaves for Home

The sister, Denett, already is in Parma.

RUPERT FIRM FILES

BOISE, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Articles of incorporation were filed with the secretary of state yesterday for Galley and Commons, Inc., Rupert, a general mercantile, at a capitalization of $24,000. Raymond R. Commons and Raymond L. Commons, Harry King and Bill Galley, all Rupert, are the incorporators.

Foreign Aid Critics Take Blast by Ike

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UP)—Striking back sharply at critics of his foreign aid proposals, President Eisenhower said yesterday "it's the whipping boy for everybody who wants to have another dam built or something else done in his area."

Critics of the $4,175,000,000 outlay Eisenhower proposed to congress Tuesday are predicting that in this election year at least a billion dollars will be carved out of it. That would put the total at about last year's level.

Senate Democratic Leader Lyndon B. Johnson, Texas, commented yesterday that "it is obvious that the congress, which has been told the nation must live under a tight budget, is not going to take the lid off foreign aid until it has made a thorough examination of the facts."

As Eisenhower spoke at his news conference of the need to sell America on foreign aid, Secretary of State Christian A. Herter was defending the program at the start of hearings on it by the house foreign affairs committee.

Herter said the United States cannot withhold "that marginal element of technical and economic assistance" growing nations need.

James D. Rockefeller reputedly refused to argue with people if they did not agree with him.

Jobless Claims Show Increase

About 1,098 initial unemployment insurance claims were filed in Idaho for the week ended Saturday, as compared with 1,064 the previous week, according to Ronald Cutler, manager of the Twin Falls employment security agency. The average weekly benefit amount was $35.14, compared with $35.12 the previous week.

Burley received 10 initial claims for a total of 181 for the week ended Saturday; Gooding received seven for a total of 150; Jerome received 24 for a total of 425; Rupert received seven for a total of 126, and Twin Falls received 46 for a total of 460.

Residents Ill

EDEN, Feb. 18—Mrs. William Thompson, Prineville, Ore., and Mr. and Mrs. Dorrance Lattimer, Yakima, Wash., are here because of the illness of their father, George Lattimer, at St. Benedict's hospital, Jerome.

FORMER IDAHOAN DIES

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 18 (AP)—A former Idahoan who founded the Fletcher Oil company, which has operations in California, Oregon and Washington, died Tuesday in a Los Angeles hospital after a brief illness. He was 63-year-old Frank Fletcher, who was born and raised in Boise.

Radar Net Is Joint Plan of U.S., Britain

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—The United States and Britain have agreed to build near the English east coast a huge, superpowered radar station capable of detecting Soviet ballistic missiles shortly after they are launched deep inside the Soviet Union.

The agreement was announced yesterday in Washington and London. It was concluded through an exchange of notes in London Monday.

The 120-million-dollar ballistic missile early warning station will be the third super-radar installation in a northern early-warning system.

The first installation at Thule, Greenland, is nearing completion. The second at Clear, Alaska, is under construction. Each reportedly will be capable of detecting missiles as they soar into the sky from a distance of more than 3,000 miles.

The United States will supply and install the long-range radar equipment and data-processing machines—the electronic brains for high-speed computation—for its share of the establishment at a cost of 98 million dollars. The British government will supply land, buildings, power plants and other installations at a cost of 22 millions.

Law Explained

Lieut. Clark Hand, director of the Twin Falls office of Idaho state police, said Wednesday that many truckers apparently are confused about speed limits in the newly created "frost zones," and that the confusion is resulting in more fines than are necessary.

On roads posted for speed only, the governing factor is the reflectorized dart on the top of the sign, Hand said. If the dart is amber colored, truckers may travel at the legal speed limit until coming to a second sign topped by a red dart. At that point the trucker must slow down to the posted speed limit until he reaches the next sign topped by an amber dart.

Savings Bond Sales in State Are Reported

District U. S. savings bonds chairman Guy H. Shearer, announced Wednesday that E and H bond sales totaled $118,022 for district three during January, and state sales totaled $1,082,916.

"Treasury officials have set a quota of $1,130,000 in E and H bond sales for the district during 1960; $8,600,000 for the state and $4,650 million for the nation.

"Special emphasis during the coming months will be made upon increasing the number of employed men and women who purchase bonds regularly through payroll deductions at the place they work," Shearer continued.

"The new, increased three and three-quarters per cent interest rate and safety features of bonds will be publicized during the year to encourage those in the agricultural industry and other individual savers to build personal financial security to help themselves and their country," he added.

In the Twin Falls district, with Vern E. Hulbert as chairman, January bond sales totaled $42,809; Minidoka district, chairman A. F. Beymer, $26,780; Cassia, chairman Gerald Y. Anderson, $16,689; Jerome, chairman A. V. Hall, $8,321; Gooding, chairman Adam Schubert, $9,936; Blaine, chairman Everett B. Taylor, $9,230; Lincoln, chairman D. Sid Smith, $4,110, and Camas district, chairman Charles Scoggins, $138 during January.

The 1960 quota for bond sales in each district is Twin Falls, $550,000; Minidoka and Cassia, each $135,000; Jerome, $120,000; Gooding and Blaine, each $70,000; Lincoln, $30,000, and Camas, $20,000.

Scouts Program Given at Church

RICHFIELD, Feb. 18 — A program on Scouting was presented at the LDS church Sunday evening by Richfield Cub Scouts, Explorers and a guest speaker, Lloyd Smith, Hailey, Blaine stake Scouting official.

The program presented by Cub Scouts and directed by Mrs. Curtis Parke, den mother, included answers to quiz questions by Mrs. Parke, the creed by Alan King and Ray Horting, Scout promise by Billy Crowther and Paul Thomas, handshake demonstration by Blair Sorensen, and salute led by Randy Parke.

Alva Richardson, Explorer Scout, spoke on Scouting and Keith Thomas and Lowell Ward played piano selections. Mack Crowther was in charge of the meeting and Bill Horting announced the program.

Suit Is Filed

Mrs. Johanna Roemer filed suit for divorce Thursday in Twin Falls district court charging John Roemer with mental cruelty.

The action states the couple was married April 7, 1931, at Paul. A previous property settlement was agreed on by the couple.

Fever for Mardi Gras Increases; Parade Is Start

NEW ORLEANS, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Thousands of workmen, businessmen and would-be revelers are scurrying about making last minute preparations this week for that special brand of carnival madness called Mardi Gras.

Work crews are putting up curb barricades along the parade route and multi-colored shades are being placed over street lights.

Taxi firms are advertising for additional help to drive gleeful visitors through jam-packed streets. Display windows are being boarded up as protection against the crowds.

It's all part of the carnival season, the nine days of unbridled revelry that will reach its climax March 1 with Mardi Gras day.

Wheat Unit OK's Merger of Plans

BOISE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Directors of Western Wheat Associates, Inc., voted yesterday to accept the Great Plains Market Development association as a full partner in promotion of market for U. S. wheat in the Far East.

The partnership approved by Western Wheat at their meeting here would bring the Great Plains group into market development work in Japan, Korea and the Philippines, spokesmen said.

Projects would be under the supervision of Western Wheat with the Great Plains group cooperating.

The two groups are currently cooperating on a program in India and Pakistan. Under the new plan, Ceylon, Indonesia, Thailand and Burma would be added to the India-Pakistan project with Western Wheat as senior partner.

3-DAY WEEK-END

BOISE, Feb. 18 (AP)—State employes, like many other workers will have a three-day holiday this week-end. Washington's birthday, Monday, is a legal holiday and state offices will be closed.

Alumni Unit Holds Confab In Twin Falls

The 50-voice Whitman college choir, directed by Kenneth E. Schilling, director of the college's conservatory of music, presented a concert Wednesday evening during a dinner-meeting of the Twin Falls chapter of the Whitman college Alumni association.

New chapter officers installed during a business meeting held after the concert, are Robert White, president; Mrs. Luneta M. Tillery, vice president, and Mrs. Guy L. Kinney, secretary-treasurer.

Other speakers were Warren Knox, assistant to Dr. Perry, and Kenneth J. Hupp, executive secretary of the college alumni association.

In addition to the 45-minute choir presentation, entertainment was furnished by Bruce Bailey, who played a 16th century viola deGamba, accompanied by Stanley Plummer, who played a 16th century harpsichord.

The choir also presented a concert Thursday morning at Kimberly high school, followed by a noon concert for the Twin Falls Kiwanis club.

New Mayor Acts

SPOKANE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Spokane's new mayor—elected by his four fellow commissioners in a surprise move yesterday acted quickly to pour oil on the troubled waters of city council-city employee relations.

Mayor Kenneth Lawson said legal action to ban picketing in a protest strike by the city employes would be held up until the city council and representatives of the employes union talked over their labor troubles.

Two Elders of LDS Church to Speak at Conference Sessions

The LDS church will hold a two-day conference Saturday and Sunday at the stake tabernacle on Maurice street north with Elder Delbert L. Stapley and Elder Henry D. Taylor as speakers.

Elder Stapley, a prominent business executive, community leader and Scouter from Phoenix, Ariz., is a member of the council of twelve apostles. He has devoted his life to church assignments since 1950, and has served as stake president and welfare leader.

Elder Taylor is assistant to the council of twelve apostles, representing the church headquarters at Salt Lake City. He left his career as a Provo, Utah, business executive to become president of the church's California mission in 1955 and was called to his present position in 1958. Previously he was a bishop and stake president.

A leadership meeting for all stake and ward officers will be held at 7:30 p.m. Saturday. It will include the stake presidency, high council, bishoprics, stake Melchezedek priesthood committee, all group leaders, assistants and secretaries. Also to attend are the stake committee for senior Aaronic members and ward committees with advisers and all executives of auxiliary organizations.

General sessions open to the public will be held at 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Sunday. Stake President F. Lyman Schenk, Twin Falls, will conduct the meetings.

Conferences held in 1960 will focus emphasis on youth development as part of a special churchwide parents and youth program launched early this year by church President David O. McKay. In keeping with this program, the MIA will hold a combined fireside and youth session with young persons between the ages of 12 and 25 at 7:30 p.m. Sunday. A recorded message will be delivered by a church general authority and a panel discussion will follow, comprised of young persons.

Conferences are held four times annually in the nearly 300 stakes (regional divisions) of the LDS church. Church leaders regularly tour the 50 missions throughout the world, where more than 6,000 young missionaries are engaged in activities, each paying his own expenses for a two- or three-year period.

Beef Rich Argentina to Be Ike's Second Stop of Tour

BUENOS AIRES, Argentina, Feb. 18 (AP)—Leaving Brazil next week, President Eisenhower will fly to a country which has twice as many cattle as people. Argentina is the place you get a tender filet mignon for 50 cents, where the aroma from meat broilers has become a sort of national perfume—the U.S. backyard barbecue multiplied manifold.

Between the Andes mountains and the Atlantic, Argentina runs north-south for 2,500 miles to form South America's largest country after Brazil. It is a country where a vast middle class dominates the population of 20 millions, where no one is likely to go hungry.

This is an underpopulated nation.

Two fifths of it are in pampas-pasture lands which all year long, winter and summer, nourish the cattle and sheep which supply a staple diet and yield a rich bounty for export. Two crops of grain a year are not uncommon in this fertile soil and benign climate. There are riches in minerals, too.

Even so, problems abound.

"This is a rich country but we are poor," says a man you meet on a ranch.

He is unlikely to have electricity unless it is home-generated from a windmill or gasoline engine. He has no telephone and few of the conveniences that mark the average American farm home. He is in about the same status as a poor farmer in the American Midwest 40 to 50 years ago.

Five of every eight Argentines live in cities. Most white collar workers have two jobs to make ends meet. The man who works six hours a day in office "A" goes over his "B" job for six hours more before he goes home on a packed bus or street car. With two jobs, he can make perhaps $150 to $200 a month.

In this city of four million, the metropolis of South America, the office clerk can find plenty of ways to spend his money. Food is cheap compared to U.S. prices, but many of the things his family wants are expensive. The Estanciera, a Jeep station wagon turned out from U.S. designs in a plant jointly owned by Kaiser interests and Argentine capital, costs $4,000, and he may wait a year for delivery.

A man named Arturo Frondizi, of Italian ancestry, is president. This is a land where whiteness of skin is an attribute on the social scale. Most of the population has a background of Spanish or Italian blood, but many have characteristics inherited from the South American Indian.

You rarely find a Negro.

While Argentina is back among the Democratic nations after the Peron dictatorial rule, Frondizi still feels it necessary to rule with a strong hand and impose a degree of austerity on the citizenry. Imports are strictly regulated in an effort to bolster the national economy. The Argentine peso lately has strengthened, in ratio to the U.S. dollar, after a period of desperate weakness.

Next week Eisenhower will hear first-hand of Argentina's troubles, from Frondizi and from Alvaro Alsogaray. He is Frondizi's righthand man in economics and coincidentally Argentina's leading exponent of free enterprise, as opposed to Peron's idea that the government runs things best.

Eisenhower is not apt to see in Argentina a great outpouring of popular welcome such as is expected in neighboring Brazil. The Frondizi government is running scared—there are too many chances that communists and Peron supporters will use Eisenhower's presence to demonstrate their feelings.

Eisenhower will spend only 21 hours in Buenos Aires and a few hours in Mar del Plata, a beach resort 250 miles south. The major part of his stay will be in Bariloche, a remote spot where he and Frondizi can talk in calm mountain air.

Travelogue Noted At Ketchum Meet

KETCHUM, Feb. 18—Keith Evans, program chairman for the regular meeting of the Ketchum-Sun Valley Rotary club Tuesday noon, introduced, as his guest speaker E. V. McHan.

McHan told of the traffic problems he and his wife encountered in the different countries during their recent trip to Europe. He also told of their flight to Europe in a jet airliner.

Members of the committee who worked on the Hailey-Ketchum-Sun Valley Kinderhorn party held at the Thunderbird last week reported that more than $100 was raised for the Kinderhorn ski area.

Guests included Rene Berdet, Simsbury, Conn., G. Taylor and D. Peters, Kamloops, B. C.; Don McKay, Seattle, and Leon Friedman, R. F. Mallon, A. W. Ensign and Savino Uberuaga, all Hailey.

Meeting Slated

Final meeting of the season for the Southern Idaho Encampment association, Independent Order of Odd Fellows, will be held March 12 in Twin Falls. The royal purple degree will be conferred at this meeting.

At the association's meeting Saturday in Rupert the golden rule degree was conferred on J. Rel Erickson by Project Encampment No. 54, Rupert.

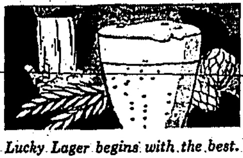
HERE'S WHY:



Lucky Lager begins with the best. Nothing else can produce true lager beer. The large-grained barley, the most flavorful hops, the purest water, the most modern breweries—these give lager quality to every glass of Lucky Lager—the real lager beer.

Lucky Lager is brewed by the famous German lager technique—a special process from start to finish. Only old world skills in the brewing and extra time in the ageing achieve the renowned body, aroma and taste of the real lager beer—Lucky Lager.

Lucky Lager has "character" in the great German tradition. One glass of Lucky Lager tells you: here is a real drink of beer. Completely different; distinctive. The Germans call lager "wunderbares bier"—magnificent beer. Americans call it Lucky Lager.

Carcass Contest Winners Inspect Top Entry

'Miss Cassia' Pageant Set For April 16

BURLEY, Feb. 18—Entries are being sought from Burley, Declo, Malta and Albion to enter the Miss Cassia County pageant scheduled for April 16 at the Burley high school auditorium. This event is sponsored by the Burley Jaycees and Jay-C-Ettes.

To be eligible a girl must be between the ages of 18 and 28 and a high school graduate by Sept. 1, 1960, and must never have been married. She will be judged on talent, beauty, personality, figure and poise.

The winner will receive a $150 scholarship, a wardrobe, and an expense paid trip to enter the Miss Idaho contest at Boise in June.

The last two state winners were from Cassia county, Tamara Ashby in 1959 and Bonnie Baird in 1958.

Local contestants will be offered a special course in charm, poise, carriage and make-up by Mrs. George Pace and Mrs. Paul Brown.

Committee in charge of the pageant are Veri Wheeler, Angel Cervantes, Mrs. Del Rupert and Mrs. Robert Shumway.

FINED OVER MIRROR

FILER, Feb. 18—Vibert C. Johnston, Buhl, was fined $5 and costs by Justice of the Peace V. A. Allison Wednesday for inadequate mirrors on his truck. He was cited by State Patrolman Frank Mogensen.

Mayor Lee and Official Argue

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 18 (UP)—Recent Salt Lake City commission meetings have been relatively quiet —among the most calm since fiery Mayor J. Bracken Lee took office last month.

But yesterday's session exploded into a violent verbal spat—the most heated exchange since Mayor Lee sat down for his first meeting.

The battle of words was between the mayor and Commissioner Joe L. Christensen. It developed when the mayor blasted the commissioners for "creating jobs" and suggested that the city hire a personnel director "to check every job to see whether it is needed."

The upshot of the debate was that the city attorney was authorized to prepare an ordinance creating the job.

Awards Given at Kimberly School

KIMBERLY, Feb. 18 — Robert Pettygrove, Hansen, director of the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association, presented awards to winners of conservation essays at the junior high school here. They are Diana Jacobs, first; Kay Walker, second, and John Scott, third.

The essays were sponsored by the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association on the county or local level. The winners will participate in the state contest.

Winners of the senior high awards, all from Filer, will be made at the convenience of the school, Pettygrove said.

Swine Breeders' Unit Holds 2-Day Barrow Contest, Show

The two-day Southern Idaho Swine Breeders association barrow show and carcass contest concluded Thursday with judging of the barrow show at the Twin Falls county fairgrounds, Filer. Judging of the carcass contest was finished Wednesday afternoon at the Independent Meat company and trophies and prizes were awarded Thursday.

Owner of the first place barrow carcass was Lester R. Harper, Paul. The barrow, when brought to the meat company live, weighed 200 pounds and was a cross breed of Duroc and Landrace.

Awarded second place was a carcass owned by Harry Mills, Twin Falls. The barrow weighed 180 pounds live and was a Berkshire. Third place carcass was owned by Danny Stivers, 16, Eden, and was a cross between a Yorkshire and Hampshire. It weighed 220 pounds live.

The Stivers youth is a student at Valley high school and raised the swine as an FFA project.

Some 14 carcasses were entered in the contest and approximately 60 persons watched the judging Wednesday.

First prize for the barrow show Thursday is a trophy; second, $5, and third, $2.50. Identical prizes were awarded for winners in the carcass contest. Rangens, Inc., Buhl, furnished prizes for the show and Independent Meat company for the carcass contest.

Barrows for the carcass contest were brought to the meat company Monday and Tuesday. Swine were weighed and butchered Tuesday.

Youth Acts Fast, Saves Tot's Life

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (UPI) — James Iacone, 15, was playing with friends yesterday afternoon when he heard a woman scream. He turned and saw a year-old baby falling from a fourth-floor window.

Iacone, a member of his high school's swimming team, raced to the spot beneath the window. He caught the baby, but could not hold him. The baby dropped to the sidewalk, but the force of its fall was broken.

Little Salvatore Juliano was hospitalized with a cerebral concussion. Police said the child was expected to recover, thanks to Iacone's quick action.

Black, Pink Cards in Central File Tell of Drivers' Records

BOISE, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Those pink or black pieces of heavy stock paper polka-dotted through four banks of drivers license file drawers mean some Idahoans have made mistakes on the highways.

Should one of those black cards be in front of your name right now it means to a sharp-eyed clerk or officer checking your record that your privilege to drive in Idaho has been suspended. Until it's removed you're not supposed to be driving.

If it's pink, you're one of the "five percenters," as George Denney, chief clerk of the motor vehicle bureau, calls them. They're the drivers who have some strikes against them for violations.

But more important than the colors of the cards in the ever-expanding file of Idaho driver information is the fact the file is there at all, easily accessible and compact.

Idaho, because of its small population, is one of the few states which can feasibly have a single file to keep every record on every driver and hope to store it in one building. States like California, New York and Ohio with massive numbers to contend with find it impossible.

Back in 1953 the central file was begun, a composite of seven different files on different aspects of motor vehicle records. Before that it took three or four checks to get all the information on a driver tied together. Today it takes just one stop, a few seconds.

In the green seven-tiered cabinets arranged row on row is the name of every driver licensee in Idaho and all his violations—in and out-of-state—along with other records of license applications. The file is complete back to 1953 and some records go all the way to 1947.

Nearby is the motor vehicle registration division with cards filed by name and number. Not 10 steps away is the state police central communications radio room.

This doesn't mean, however, any private citizen can walk in to find out if the neighbor who drives across his rose bushes is a menace on the highways. Files are restricted to law enforcement and other state agencies plus insurance companies.

This same central filing system, too, is the thing which made Idaho's demerit system possible. Without the ready-made place for records there would have been no starting place when the legislature passed the new statute in 1959.

Naturally, the demerits are stored there along with carbon copies of warning letters, new tickets issued and dates when all this happened.

The fat files generally mean the driver is in trouble or has been in trouble. There's usually a black card in those packets.

Probe to Continue

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Sen. Estes Kefauver, D., Tenn., says that his anti-trust subcommittee will resume its inquiry into the "high prices" of drugs next Tuesday.

He said yesterday the new series of hearings would center on "the general problems of the industry." Dr. Austin Smith, president of the Pharmaceutical Manufacturers association with headquarters here, was listed as the first witness.

Any way you figure it, there's no percentage in trying to outwit the guy who gives you the ticket; with the central file it won't take him long to find out if you're telling the truth. —

Picard Shows His Paintings For Olympics

KETCHUM, Feb. 18 — Fred Picard has gone to Squaw Valley, where he will exhibit originals and reproductions from Picard art collection in Sun Valley.

On display will be the Picasso drawing "Four Athletes" from the artist's 1906 period. This originally belonged to the famous Gertrude Stein collection.

Others include illustrations by the Swiss master, Hans Erni, for the book "Olympiques de Pindare" which was published at the time of the Olympic games in Lausanne, Switzerland, in memory of Baron Pierre de Coubertin.

Other painters represented will be Leger Braque, Clave, Manesseir and Marino. All have a definite sports motif.

Picard's exhibit will be shown in the new Cornice building on top of Mountain KT-22, where some of the Olympics officials will make their headquarters and where visitors in Squaw Valley will come on the ski lift.

His exhibit, which will open this week, is considered the "highest" art show in the world.

In addition to the art pieces, there will be photographs of Picard-designed ski clothing and famous ski lifts in this country and Europe.

Credit Policy Discussed at Meet in T.F.

A panel discussion on the fertilizer industry and credit policies was featured during a dinner-meeting of the South Idaho Plant Food association held at 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at the Rogerson hotel State room.

Moderator for the panel discussion was Newell Dickson, Pocatello, an agronomist for Pacific Cooperative supply.

Dale Isley, Idaho Falls, representing Rogers Brothers Seed company, and William Brissendon, Pocatello, manager of the Simplot Fertilizer company, discussed the fertilizer industry.

Association officers attending were Theodore Pence, Buhl, president; Charles Lunte, Buhl, vice president; Leland Fleischman, Gooding, secretary-treasurer; J. C. McCollum, Twin Falls; Marvin Reynolds, Rupert, and Robert Reed, Gooding, all directors.

The next meeting will be held at 6:30 p.m. March 16.

6 MORE SOVIETS TO DIE

MOSCOW, Feb. 18 (AP)—Six more Soviets have been sentenced to death for killing anti-nazi partisans in World war II, the newspaper Soviet agriculture said yesterday. This makes a total of 11 this week.

INVITATION FOR BID

For drilling, casing and testing of a domestic well for the City of Twin Falls, Idaho.

SEALED BIDS will be received in the office of the City Clerk until 5:00 P.M. and publicly opened and read at 7:30 P.M. at the regular meeting of the Board of Commissioners, Monday, March 14, 1960 for the drilling, casing and testing of a domestic well to furnish water to the public water system of the City of Twin Falls.

The work shall include all labor, equipment, materials and incidentals necessary to perform the drilling, casing, sealing, testing and necessary clean-up for the completion of a domestic well as directed by specifications. The site for this well will be furnished and designated by the City of Twin Falls City Engineer.

Bidders shall be licensed public works contractors as required by the State of Idaho Code, Title 54, Chapter 19.

Bidders shall furnish with their bid, bid security in the amount of five (5) percent of the total amount of the bid and the successful bidder shall be required to furnish on execution of the contract, performance and payment bond in the amount equal to one hundred (100) per cent of the total amount of the contract price.

Minimum wage rates as established by the State of Idaho Department of Labor shall prevail and all bids shall be based upon such wage rates.

The City reserves the right to accept or reject any or all bids and to waive any informalities as may satisfy the best interests of the City.

Time limit for completion of the well drilling operations shall be one hundred eighty calendar days. Liquidated damages for delay shall be in the amount of $25.00 per working day.

Specifications may be obtained from the office of the City Engineer without charge.

Aide Speaks On Red Cross At Buhl Meet

Withall, who was introduced by Robert Bailey, Buhl, member of the Red Cross Pacific area advisory council, explained the home service and blood bank programs.

Capt. Walter Senften, Buhl fund drive chairman, was introduced. The club donated $10 to the Red Cross.

George Baxter and Mel Carter spoke on the Blue Gulch project. They showed a map of the proposed damsite and land to be irrigated in the Blue Gulch area, and noted that filings have been made for overflow water from the high line canal.

Club members recommended the group's fish and game committee to investigate the proposed plan of the Associated Sportsmen of America concerning leasing of private hunting land, and report at the next meeting.

Conrad Wagner, Buhl, was a guest and refreshments were served by Bill Kinyon and Ed Conrad.

Boyle Describes Individuals In End-of-Office-Day Parade

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Have you ever looked around a business office at quitting time?

The white-collar characters in the office zoo start acting the moment they step into the place in the morning. And they are still acting at the end of the day, after eight long, hard hours of shuffling papers from one pile to another.

Hal Boyle

1. The philosopher—at 5:31 (he always gives the company one extra minute of work a day) he rises from his desk and makes the same remark he has made every week-day evening for 34 years: "Well, another day, another dollar."

2. First-out-of-the-door-Freda—This beat-the-clock stenographer starts getting ready to leave at 4:30. She is in the washroom from 5:00 to 5:26. At 5:27 she sprints for the elevator, and anyone standing in her path is in for a broken leg.

3. The nocturnal snooper—He hangs around after all others have left so he can read any mail they leave on their desks. He even checks the wastebaskets if the janitor doesn't beat him to them.

4. The pack rat—His last act of the day is to stuff his pocket with items he figures his kids can use in school — pencils, erasers, library paste, memo pads, carbon paper. If you searched his house, you'd find more office supplies than the firm has in its warehouse.

5 The company humorist—As he steps into the crowded elevator he says loudly: "I suppose you all have been wondering why I called you together for this conference." Everybody laughed when he first made this wisecrack in 1912, and he can't understand why it still isn't funny in 1960.

6. The homing pigeon—Twice before quitting time he phones his wife in the suburbs, and he phones her again in the station just before leaping aboard his train. What does he have to tell her? Nothing, just that he's coming home.

7. The after-hours squatter—he hangs around the office until 8 p.m., just so he won't have to go home and listen to his wife. He'd rather go to a bar, but she doesn't give him enough money for that.

8. The thrifty Beau Brummel—This two-bit Romeo has a heavy date. But before leaving he shaves in the office washroom so he won't have to go home and use his own soap. He sometimes washes his socks there, too, to save laundry bills, and lets them dry in his desk drawer.

9. The happy hypocrites—They pretend they have to stay late to wind up an important job, but as soon as the office empties they get out a deck of cards and play gin rummy at a tenth of a cent a point.

10. The pseudo eager beaver—He strides out lugging a bulging brief case and, if you didn't know it held only wadded newspapers, you'd be sure here was a guy plan*ning to burn the midnight oil* while trying to solve company problems.

11. The passionate house keeper—Neatness is his god. His biggest fear in life is he will die with a runny nose and be buried without a handkerchief. He does nothing from 1:30 until 5:30 p.m. but tidy up his desk so that everything will be in order when he comes to work the following morning.

12. The boss—at quitting time he breezes out with more pep and energy than anyone in the place. Only his secretary knows his secret—he just woke up from his afternoon nap.

Idaho Heart Association Gives Funds For Basic Research to Area Students

Magic Valley students are involved in basic research work at the University of Idaho and Idaho State college under grants from the Idaho Heart association.

At the University of Idaho, Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell are doing research while working toward careers as medical doctor and in research and teaching. Mitchell was graduated from Kendrick high school and Mrs. Mitchell, the former Carolyn Dempsey, received a diploma from Hailey high school.

In their research project, the Mitchells are doing a descriptive anatomical study on the snake, putting special emphasis on the heart and circulation system. Included in the research is an attempt to offer a scientific reason for the snake's ability to move on a dry surface.

"Snakes have the blood vessels which should go to legs," says Mrs. Mitchell. "We are tracing the complete circulatory system of a boa constrictor to see what happens to these blood vessels."

And at Idaho State college, Mrs. Marjorie Cowles Francisco, a bacteriology senior from Twin Falls, is planning to finish her project this spring.

Working under the direction of Dr. Dorothy Faris, head of the bacteriology department, and Dr. Earl Swanson, director of the Idaho State college museum, Mrs. Francisco is at work in a study of the genetic characteristics of a population as reflected in blood groupings.

She is collecting blood samples of a distinct local population to discover if it is feasible to work out genetic characteristics of a population through blood grouping techniques. At present Mrs. Francisco is subjecting blood samples to laboratory tests to determine the blood types.

After the groupings are completed, she will study the distribution of the blood types and note the frequency of each particular grouping's appearance within the population.

Mrs. Francisco and Mr. and Mrs. Mitchell are three of 14 young Idahoans, who during the past 15 months have worked on scientific research in Idaho's institutions of higher learning. The research program is made possible by contributions to the "Heart Fund" during February.

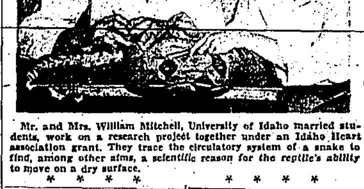
Mrs. Marjorie Cowles Francisco, center, Idaho State college bacteriology senior from Twin Falls, discusses her research project with Dr. Dorothy Faris, head of the bacteriology department, and Dr. Earl Swanson, director of the ISC museum. Mrs. Francisco is collecting and typing blood samples to find if it is feasible to work out genetic characteristics of a distinct population through blood grouping techniques.



Mr. and Mrs. William Mitchell, University of Idaho married students, work on a research project together under an Idaho Heart association grant. They trace the circulatory system of a snake to find, among other aims, a scientific reason for the reptile's ability to move on a dry surface.

Market Group For Gooding Names Three

GOODING, Feb. 18—R. M. Woody, Hagerman; Clarence Wells and William Varin, Gooding, were reelected directors of the Gooding County Marketing association at the annual meeting Tuesday at the Gooding Grange hall.

During the business meeting conducted by president, Clarence Wells, the wool pool signup date was extended to March 1. It was decided all wool pooled that had not been tagged would be kept separate and a committee would visit each flock to note the quality of wool before shearing.

Wade Wells, University of Idaho extension animal husbandman, spoke on lamb and ewe feeding and on the wool exhibit provided by R. C. Elliott company. It was noted that the size of ranch flocks are increasing and range numbers decreasing. He noted that standardization of quality is important and compared what has happened to the broiler business with standardization and the lard business.

Mel Claar, secretary of Idaho Woolgrowers association, spoke on the work of the state association, noting recent wool sales and lamb grading and complimented the marketing association for the efficient job of marketing being done.

Edward Koester, county agent and secretary of the association, presented the financial statement which shows the volume of business in 1959 increased. He stated 61 wool pool signers shipped 57,834 pounds of wool which sold at $23,579.96 with an increase of more than 5,000 pounds and $3,500 over the 1958 record.

Five lamb pools were conducted, selling 2,615 lambs compared to 2,422 in 1958, with the lambs bringing $52,376.21. The total amount of business was $75,956.17 compared to $64,102.76 in 1958. The pool handling charges were one-half cent per pound for wool and 13 cents per hundredweight on lambs.

Forty-five persons attended a luncheon served prior to the business meeting.

Portland Lumber Plant Is Burned

PORTLAND, Feb. 18 (AP)—Fires destroyed a four-story lumber plant here last night and an official of the Western Door and Plywood corporation, said damage may be more than $100,000.

Firemen said the fire also ate into the adjoining Portland Ice and Cold Storage company, burning through two big freezing units before it was limited.

No damage estimate was available, but the owner of the cold storage firm said the building and its contents were valued at more than one-half million dollars.

Nineteen pieces of equipment responded to five alarms.

Picketing Planned

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico, Feb. 18 (AP)—Puerto Rican nationalists plan mass picketing when President Eisenhower arrives here Monday en route to South America, a nationalist leader said last night.

Clemente Mattei Padilla, a leader of the Vigilant Patriotic society, said the demonstrations are expected at San Juan International airport, major military bases and government buildings. They will be synchronized with "anti-imperialist" demonstrations Monday before the White House in Washington and the U.N. buildings in New York, he said.

Favor Returned

VIENNA, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Josef Frischauf and his wife were kind to an injured rabbit and the rabbit saved their lives.

They found the rabbit with an injured foot in a wooded area, bandaged the foot, and made a soft bed for the rabbit near their own bedroom.

Yesterday morning, they said, the rabbit's thumping on the floor awoke them in time to flee their burning house.

Founders Day Observed for Lincoln PTA

SHOSHONE, Feb. 18—Founders day was observed at the local PTA Monday night with a special program.

Mrs. Howard Hill, program chairman, introduced past presidents who told of main events of the years they were president. Those participating were Mrs. Mary Custer, Mrs. Cletus Shonk, Mrs. John Thomas, Mrs. Ross and Mrs. Dean Barney.

Joyce Hatmaker played a piano solo. The PTA prayer was given by Mrs. Luella L. Kinsey. Mrs. Harrell Thorne reported 100 members in the unit.

Mrs. J. Howard Manning, president, urged all parents of school children to pay their membership dues within the month as the Shoshone unit has about 30 less members this year than last.

Following discussion, the group voted to purchase shades for the Lincoln school auditorium to provide for a place to show movies and films at that school. Members voted to purchase the blinds and use the remainder of the project money this year to purchase more library books for the rooms at the grade school.

Named to the book selection committee were Mrs. R. G. Neher, Mrs. Joe Pagonga and Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker. Named to the blind committee were Douglas H. Hansen and Dale Smith.

Mrs. Garnet Oneida, Mrs. Dorothy Clayton and Mrs. Dennie Everett were named to the life membership committee.

Elected to the nominating committee were Mrs. Mike Urrutia, Mrs. V. C. Ross and Mrs. Oneida. Officers will be elected next meeting and installed in April.

Mrs. Nina Murphy is chairman of the penmanship and art contest at the school and will have work of the students on display at the Lincoln county fair.

Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker reported there will be a display of adult art and hobbies at the April PTA meeting and all are urged to participate.

Bylaws of the PTA will be read at the next meeting as revisions must be made. A program on legislation also is planned.

Attendance prizes for the evening were won by the fourth grade at the Lincoln school with Mrs. Marjorie Eldredge as teacher, first; Mrs. M. E. McKendrick's first grade at the Lincoln school, second, and the seventh grade and the junior class of the high school, third.

Hostesses were Mrs. Elmer Peak, Mrs. Jack Hannah, Mrs. Joe Pagoaga, Mrs. R. G. Neher, Mrs. Charles Pendleton, Mrs. Martine Oneida, Mrs. Joe Oneida, Mrs. Harold Perron, Mrs. Oliver Payne and Mrs. Robert Parkhurst.

A special cake was baked by Mrs. V. C. Ross, hospitality chairman, representing home, community, school and church. Mrs. Ray Tanaka explained the symbols.

"X-15" Is Put Through Dive

EDWARDS AIR FORCE BASE, Calif., Feb. 18 (AP)—The rocket ship X15 made its first steep power dive yesterday, a nearly vertical descent that subjected test pilot Scott Crossfield to pull-out pressure more than six times the force of gravity.

It was the most drastic test to date in a series preceding the sleek, black craft's assault on space.

It is expected ultimately to soar 100 miles high at speeds up to 4,000 miles an hour.

The X15, after being dropped from a bomber, flew to only 50,000 feet, then dived almost straight down in a test of its various systems under high G forces.

Bodies of 5 Said Part of Plane Crew

WIESBADEN, Germany, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Preliminary investigations by U.S. army mortuary experts have confirmed that the five bodies found in the Libyan desert last week were crew members of the bomber "Lady Be Good," the U.S. air force announced today.

Actual medical identification has not yet begun, the air force said, but a preliminary report from Capt. Myron C. Fuller, Placerville, Calif., head of the mortuary team, said there was "little doubt" the bodies were those of crewmen of the crashed Liberator.

The World war II Liberator bomber crashed in the desert on its way home from a mission in 1943. Its wreckage was found last spring and the bodies of the five crewmen were located last Saturday in the spot where they died, 85 miles from the wreck.

Fuller, with Huga A. Schaefer, Philadelphia, Pa., a field investigator for the army mortuary service, is scheduled to try to identify the remains by means of dental and bone checks.

The two also will search the area where the remains were found in hope that the bodies of other members of the plane's crew will be located.

Auto Production to Be Cut; Industrial Output Advances

By United Press International

The auto industry is preparing to cut back its production because of slipping sales, industry sources said yesterday, but the federal reserve board said overall industrial output advanced during January.

Both Imperial division of Chrysler corporation and Buick division of General Motors corporation have revealed that they plan to lower production within a month.

Ward's Automotive reports, statistical agency for the industry, said today sales were progressing at a rate which would result in the sale of 5,743,000 units in a year. Immediately after the steel strike, officials of all the major companies predicted sales this year would total about 6,500,000 or about 750,000 more than is now indicated.

A spokesman for Imperial said division planned to close for a week beginning next Monday and then would resume production with a reduced work force. The spokesman said 400 employes would be laid off when work resumed with production rates "adjusted to balance field stocks."

The spokesman said the adjustments were necessary because production schedules have been "above normal" since the end of the steel strike late in January.

A spokesman for Buick said the division planned "some short work weeks" next month but no layoffs were planned at this time.

He said dealer stocks were about normal at this time.

Despite the drop of sales below expectations, however, the overall picture compared favorably with last year.

Meanwhile, the federal reserve board reported that overall industrial output advanced nearly three per cent, with durable goods chalking up almost the entire gain.

This means the nation's factories, mills and mines poured out goods and materials at a record rate in January as manufacturing bounced back from the steel strike.

The board's index of factory, mine and mill activity jumped four points to a new high of 169 which meant industrial output was 69 per cent higher last month than in a 1947-49 base period.

It was the first new high since the pre-steel strike build-up of last May and June lifted the index to 166. The index fell to 155 during the strike months of July, August, September and October.

In a separate report, the commerce department revised slightly upward earlier government estimates of total output of goods and services at the end of 1959.

It said the gross national product was running at an annual rate of $483,500,000,000 in the last three months of 1959, up $1,500,000,000 from the figure used by President Eisenhower in his economic report last month.

For all of 1959, the nation produced $479,500,000,000 worth of goods and services, a gain of nine per cent from 1958.

And as the two above reports were made Iron Age magazine said yesterday that steel orders are running about 10 per cent below month ago.

The national metalworking weekly explained that "a small flurry of deferments, cancellations and a general attitude of hesitation contribute to the drop in orders.

Cruelty Charged In Divorce Suit

The action states the couple was married Sept. 12, 1953, at Springdale, Ark. There are three minor children. Community property includes a car and miscellaneous household furnishings.

Henington asks that he pay $25 a month support for the children and that there be an equitable division of property.

MARKET AT A GLANCE

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—
Stocks—Higher; strong advance.
Bonds—Mixed; corporates improve.
Cotton—Irregular; fluctuations narrow.
Chicago:
Wheat—Narrowly mixed; old crop months eased.
Corn—Mixed; light trade.
Oats—Mixed; influenced by corn.
Soybeans—Higher; short covering.
Hogs—Steady to 25 cents lower; top $14.25.
Cattle — Slaughter steers steady; top $27.

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Stocks registered substantial gains across the board today despite some late profit taking which dropped most issues from their highs for the day.

The two-day rise in prices on increased volume gave brokers encouragement that the rally they have been waiting for since the start of the year may be under way.

Electronics registered the best gains as a group. Motorola rose around three points and gains of around two points appeared in IBM, Beckman and Zenith.

Leading motor stocks rose around a point as the industry lifted production this week sharply above last week's 1960 low. Inland Steel and Universal Cyclops rose around two each in the steels where Republic and Youngstown added around 1½.

The blue chip industrial average was helped by a three-point rise in Du Pont, about two in Allied Chemical and around one in Union Carbide and Eastman Kodak.

Oils were strong with Continental up about two, and Texaco, Sinclair, Richfield, Honolulu and Standard Oil of California all up around a point.

Firestone rose in the tires, Cessna nearly four in the aircrafts and American Home Products around eight in the drugs.

Pullman rose around five. Corning Glass more than four and Link Belt more than three. A number of issues registered gains from one to two points.

Radio Worker Is Ashamed for Pay

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—A disc jockey who accepted $9,055 from record companies over a three-year period says he quit because "I was ashamed of myself. I was ashamed of the industry."

The story told by Norman Prescott, Boston, was released by the house subcommittee on legislative oversight which continued behind closed doors today its hearings on payola.

The subcommittee arranged to hear from Don Masters, disc jockey and record librarian at Boston station WHIL. There was no explanation of why he would be heard in secret.

Speaker Set

BOISE, Feb. 18—Dr. Elwyn S. Schwartz, associate professor of music at the University of Idaho, will be master of ceremonies at the dinner meeting of the Idaho Cattle Feeders association in Boise. The dinner will be at 7 p.m. Saturday, Feb. 27, at the Hotel Boise.

The meeting will be open to the public. Persons wishing to attend are asked to make their reservations with the hotel or the Idaho Cattle Feeders association, box 272, Caldwell.

GENERAL HAS SURGERY

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Gen. Walter Bedell Smith, 64, underwent minor surgery today to improve drainage of a lung abscess for which he has been hospitalized since last Oct. 13.

Grains

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Rye and soybeans closed higher and other grains mostly steady today on the Chicago board of trade.

At the closing bell, wheat was off ¼ to up ⅝, corn off ¼ to up ⅛, oats off ⅛, rye off ¼ to up 1¼, soybeans up ⅜ to ¾ and lard unchanged to up three points.

Wheat futures held mostly steady after easing earlier on commission house selling. Some early selling in nearby months resulted after a government report showed farmers had placed less 1959 wheat under loan than had been expected. A fair demand for wheat came from commercial houses.

March corn encountered some selling pressure at the start, but prices closed mostly steady. Cash houses were on both sides of March. Some selling in May was thought to be hedge selling, and the spot basis was steady.

The oats market was quiet. Prices were mostly steady. A moderate commission house trade was on both sides of the market.

Rye ranged from steady to strong. Export traders said the continent bought about 280,000 bushels of corn. West Germany bought—180,000 bushels of spring wheat, and France took 120,000 bushels of soybeans.

Outside markets were mostly steady.

Wall Street Chatter

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (UPI)—The trouble with the market now is that although the downside risk for the moment does not appear too great, it remains difficult to enthuse about the upside potential, according to W. E. Hutton and company.

Stocks are becoming more immune to unfavorable news but reports from many basic industries that the rate of incoming orders is disappointing is not the type of thing which is stimulating, the firm points out.

"The small faction of owners of stocks who are largely responsible for the day to day fluctuations in prices are an impatient lot, on the whole. They have been spoiled in recent years by having so many companies experience an unusual rate of growth," it says.

These investors, the firm adds, are unimpressed with companies not growing at 15-to-20 per cent a year, and with the so-called "growth" companies which have become so cyclical that they have difficulty in putting two good years back-to-back.

The Dow theory trader says that within 30 to 60 days, the industrial average should be discounting the best first quarter earnings ever and will be pressing upward into new all-time high territory.

Pufcell and company believes Studebaker - Packard should be "basing out" at around current levels and notes that the Lark is selling well and that retail deliveries rose more than 10 per cent in the last 10 days of January over the previous 10 days.

Martin Gilbert of Van Alstyne, Noel and company would withhold purchases for a time since further selling in the market is a likelihood. "In this connection, the list must be watched for a sidewise phase which would suggest at least a temporary rally . . ."

Reynolds and company rates Servel an "interesting speculation." The company is following a growth-through acquisition program, the firm points out.

Former Resident Claimed by Death

She was born Dec. 5, 1878, at York, Nebr., and was married to Marshal Nelson Dick, Jan. 1, 1899, at Lawrence, Nebr. They lived in the Buhl area before coming to Jerome. The couple moved to Arco 15 years ago.

Survivors include her husband, three sons; L. L. Dick, Payette; Arthur Dick, Jerome, and Mountey L. Dick, Arco; three daughters, Mrs. Thelma Sample, Mrs. Lola Mintum and Mrs. Nadine Van Norstrand, all Portland; 12 grandchildren and 11 great-grandchildren; two brothers, Roy Peasley, Portland, and P. D. Peasley, Spokane, and two sisters, Mrs. Ida Davidson and Mrs. Olive Johnson, both Spokane.

Funeral services will be held at 1 p.m. Saturday at the Arco Community Baptist church with the Rev. K. L. Peterson officiating. Final rites will be held in the Arco Hillcrest cemetery. Friends may call at the Wiley funeral home.

Sign of Spring

HAILEY, Feb. 18—Mans Coffin, watermaster for the Big Wood river, reported he and his wife picked a bouquet of violets from their yard at their home in Shoshone Wednesday morning.

Big Welcome Expected for Ike in Brazil

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—President Eisenhower may receive a gigantic welcome in Brazil next week which will rival or exceed the tumultuous acclaim he got from millions in India, officials predict.

The detailed itinerary for Eisenhower's three days in Brazil, first stop on his Latin American trip, was made public along with the schedule for the other stops—Argentina, Chile, Uruguay and Puerto Rico.

Eisenhower will leave Washington next Monday and return March 6.

Eisenhower will visit three Brazilian cities—Rio de Janeiro, Sao Paulo and Brasilia, the modernistic new capital still under construction. He will confer with Brazilian President Juscelino Kubitschek at all three spots. He will also make a short address to the Brazilian congress.

The President will fly to Argentina Feb. 26 and deliver a 10-minute address to the national congress in Buenos Aires on the same day. He will hold private conversations with President Arturo Frondizi Feb. 27 and 28 at the Argentine resort city of Bariloche in the Andes.

Eisenhower is expected to arrive in Santiago, the Chilean capital, on Feb. 29, and spend two days in that country.

He will arrive in Uruguay March 2. Highlight of the visit will be an address by the President to a joint session of the national congress on March 2.

Eisenhower will stop over in Puerto Rico for three days before returning to Washington.

Titan Missile Base Is Topic At Unit Meet

A committee including Dee Keller, Montgomery and Pyle of the local Chamber of Commerce, Clyde Peterson of the Wendell Chamber of Commerce, and Gooding County Commissioner Emerson Pugmire, Hagerman, recently met in Boise with Robert Russell, industrial relations manager for Kaiser Steel company, to obtain information concerning the impact on this area.

It was reported headquarters and warehousing are being established for the initial work which will begin soon and work on one of the complexes will begin first.

This will be followed with an interval of 30 days for the other two. The official stated about 500 persons would be employed at each of the sites, and four companies would be involved with only one in charge of the work. The others would be interested financially.

The names and address of the companies were furnished to committee members and the manager stated he would cooperate with various Chambers of Commerce as soon as work started to determine what the communities had to offer.

Those having properties for rental were urged to clean and paint them if necessary to have them in readiness as it might be too late to do so when they are actually needed.

James Muffley reported plans for the annual chamber banquet to be held Feb. 27 at the IOOF hall were progressing very well. Edward Reay, superintendent of the Idaho state school for the deaf and blind, will be master of ceremonies.

Main speaker will be Col. Robert V. DeShazo, commander of the 813 division at the Mountain Home air force base. All members were urged to sell their tickets and reminded of the seating capacity for 250 people.

The group approved a resolution to be sent to the policy committee of the national organization which will meet Feb. 25, in Washington, D. C., asking that they take a neutral position on extensions of the trade agreements act in place of its present position of favoring such extension.

A letter was read from Ron Bailey, western manager of the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, urging all members planning to attend the Aircade meeting in Boise March 2 to make reservations early.

It was announced that H. J. Dollinger, district manager of the national chamber, plans to be here the evening of Feb. 26, to meet with as many directors and committeemen as possible.

Bridge Club Has Play for Series

Magic Valley Duplicate Bridge club met Wednesday afternoon for the first series in its six-week tournament.

North and south winners were Mrs. Robert Scott and Mrs. L. Lingnaw, first; Mrs. Herbert Burgess and Mrs. Harry Light, second, and Mrs. Guy Towle and Mrs. L. H. VanRiper, third.

East and west winners were Mrs. E. W. Sinclair and Mrs. William I. Spaeth, first; Mrs. J. C. Carson and Mrs. Joseph Shelby, second, and Mrs. Earl Felt and Mrs. J. O. Pumphrey, third.

It was announced the annual winter party featuring masterpoint play is scheduled for Wednesday.

Kiwanis Club Hears Songs From Musical

BURLEY, Feb. 18—Kiwanis pianist, Dorothy Norton, sang two selections from the musical, "The King and I," currently being presented at the Burley high school in which she has one of the leading roles, at the club's Wednesday luncheon at Cousin Roy's.

Charles Hendricks, chairman of the agricultural committee, gave a report on recent feed lot tour conducted by the county agent, Glen Bodily, and other proposed activities for the year.

Otis Orton, secretary, explained the rules outlined by Kiwanis International for thodse striving to get 100 per cent attendance records.

Dean Van Engelen, chairman of public and business committee, is in charge of arrangements for the Kiwanis to unload and load the equipment for the bloodmobile in Burley Wednesday at the Elks hall.

Don Hansen, chairman of the inter-club relations committee, announced there was to be an inter-club meeting at Rupert next Tuesday noon.

M. L. Tillery, superintendent of the bureau of reclamation office here, is to speak to the Kiwanis meeting next Wednesday.

Warnings on Control Over Schools Told

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Feb. 18 (AP)—Overemphasis on national testing programs may lead eventually to national control of school programs, school administrators warned yesterday.

They cautioned also against letting educational television programs escape the control of local school districts.

Resolutions Adopted

The warnings came in a series of resolutions unanimously adopted on the last day of the annual convention of the American Association of School Administrators.

About 20,000 educators, nearly half of them school superintendents, attended the five-day meeting.

One resolution expressed "grave concern about overemphasis of testing, misuse of tests, and the possibility that tests may control the curriculum content rather than measure the degrees to which it has been mastered."

Fear of Tests Reported

Many school officials, while acknowledging that some sort of intelligence or achievement tests are necessary, fear that schools may some day train students primarily to pass the tests.

The resolution on educational television was generalized but appeared to refer to a project now under way in the Midwest, sometimes known as project stratosphere.

The plan is to have an airplane circle at 25,000 feet, beaming programs to schools in a six-state area.

Dividend Told

SALT LAKE CITY, Feb. 18 (AP)—Directors of Utah Power and Light company have declared a dividend of 32 cents per share on common stock. This dividend is payable April 1, to stockholders of record at the close of business March 2, 1960.

About half of the company's 18,000 shareholders live in Utah, Idaho, Wyoming and Colorado.

Court of Honor Set at Shoshone

SHOSHONE, Feb. 18—A Wood River district Scout court of honor will be held at 8 p.m. Tuesday at the Memorial hall. The public is invited.

There will be at least two boys from Shoshone who will receive the eagle Scout award. They are Fred Oyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray E. Oyer, and Robert Hatmaker, son of Mr. and Mrs. L. M. Hatmaker. The boys belong to the new Explorer Scout troop here of which Oyer is adviser, and Boyd Rood, assistant adviser.

Purse Snatcher Strikes Woman

Mrs. Izetta Schneider, about 60, route 3, Twin Falls, reported to city police officers Wednesday night that a man wearing a black hat struck her as she walked down the alley at the rear of the Orpheum theater and fled with her purse which contained an undetermined amount of money and papers.

Mrs. Schneider told officers she had attended the movie and was walking to her car at 9:30 p.m. when the alleged robbery occurred. She was unable to give officers a description of the assailant except that he wore a "black hat."

Mrs. Schneider had two small cuts on her left hand, but did not require hospitalization. She said the man struck her on the forehead with his fists, but did not knock her down. Officers are continuing the investigation.

Relative Killed

EDEN, Feb. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Harold Bauer left Wednesday for Pocatello where they were called by the accidental death of a brother-in-law, Dean Geddes, 40.

Mr. Geddes was hauling a load of beet pulp with his truck and en route to the farm it slid on a slick spot on the road causing the truck to go over an embankment.

Farming Plan Is Advocated By Democrat

A candidate for the Democratic nomination for the U. S. senator from Idaho advocated a vigorous and complete program to solve declining farm profits when he appeared in Twin Falls Wednesday afternoon.

A. W. (Bill) Brunt said, "The declining prices of farm products is only half the story. The rising expenses of the farmer due to inflation and tight money is the other half."

Brunt is in the real estate and insurance business at Idaho Falls and manages a farm in that area. He conferred with Democratic leaders in the Twin Falls area Wednesday.

"Something has to be done about declining farm profits," Brunt stated. "Idaho farm income decreased again last year, expenses increased and profits were hard to find."

He said the Idaho family farmer "is having a hard enough time meeting his obligations, let alone sending his children to college and giving his family the opportunities they deserve."

"Only bold thinking and action can reverse the trend of declining profits," he claimed.

Brunt was chairman of the Idaho state Democratic central committee from 1952 to 1954 and served two terms in the Idaho legislature from 1940 to 1944.

Vow Exchanged By Area Couple In Church Rites

MURTAUGH, Feb. 18—In rites solemnized at 1:30 p.m. Sunday at the United Brethren in Christ church, Twin Falls, Georgia Anderson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Moates, became the bride of LePage Layton, Burley.

The Rev. Lloyd Oliver preformed the double ring ceremony before tiffany baskets of pink and white carnations and snapdragons tied with matching pink satin bows.

The bride chose a beige linen suit and matching hat. Her only jewelry was a firestone necklace and matching earrings, a gift of the bridegroom. She carried an orchid surrounded with silver sequin hearts trimmed with white streamers on a white Bible.

J. D. Layton served as best man for his brother. Ushers were Larry Corey, Pocatello, and Wayne May, Burley.

Mrs. Kenneth Henderson played background music and the processional and recessional. R. C. Tolman sang "Because" and "The Lord's Prayer," accompanied by Mrs. Henderson.

Mrs. Moates selected a blue and white two-piece print silk dress and wore a corsage of red and white carnations.

A reception was held after the ceremony with approximately 100 guests attending. The lace over pink covered bride's table featured a three-tiered wedding cake trimmed with red roses, crested with a large white bell and lily-of-the-valley. White tapers in silver holders flanked the cake centered on a mirror.

After the cake was cut, it was served by Mrs. Shirley Hughes, Melba. The punch bowl was presided over by Mrs. John Holcomb, Kimberly, and serving coffee was Mrs. Frank Sedivy, Buhl.

Mrs. Maurice Allen, Twin Falls, registered the guests, and Mrs. Tim J. Drown, sister of the bride, arranged the gift display.

After a brief wedding trip, the couple will be at home in Burley where the bridegroom is sheriff of Cassia county.

Square Dancers Vie for "Barrel" At Friday Event

Which square dance club will gain temporary ownership of the traveling barrel this Friday? That is the question being asked by members of the Diamond Squares club, now in possession of the "barrel."

To go back to the beginning, the barrel originated seven weeks ago with the Calico and Jeans Square Dance club of Blackfoot. The purpose is to encourage square dancing in this area.

The barrel is awarded to traveling squares representing various dance clubs in southern Idaho. To receive it, the visiting club must be the first to arrive with a full square of dancers at the regular meeting of the group having the barrel.

Clubs having the barrel were Promenaders, Idaho Falls; Ruffles and Russets, Shelley; Sagebrush Hoppers, Idaho Falls, and Upper Valley Squares, Ashton and St. Anthony. Then it moved to Pocatello with the Shanny Rounders and on to the Gate City Squares.

Seven couples from the Diamond Squares arrived at the Pocatello hall at 6 p. m. last week to claim the barrel and bring it to Twin Falls. The first visiting square this Friday will claim the barrel.

The dance will be held at 8:30 p. m. at the former "N" club and also will mark the third anniversary of the group. All former members are invited. Those attending are asked to bring a covered dish for a potluck supper at midnight. Walter Will is caller.

Square Dances scheduled for 8:30 p. m. Saturday include the Wheeling Stars Round and Square Dance club at the Kimberly Grange hall with William Cofield as caller.

Myron Bliss will call for the Melody Squares 10th anniversary dance at the Gooding Grange hall. Rounds and squares danced several years ago will be featured.

Visitors are welcome at these Saturday dances and those attending are asked to bring dessert or sandwiches.

Sunday the Southcentral Idaho Square Dance association will meet at 1:30 p. m. at the Kimberly Grange hall with the Wheeling Stars as hosts. Twinkletoes Round Dance club will present the program.

Care of Your Children

By ANGELO PATRI

When a child displays an unacceptable way of growth it is so easy to say "He will outgrow it." But will he? If it is a habit of faulty speech about the age of 3, we can set a pattern of clear speech in the household and hope he will follow it. If by school age he still has faulty speech it is just as well to let go of the "outgrowing" notion and have advice from the speech specialist. The early defects of vision, hearing, speech, may be outgrown but again, they may not, so it is best to be watchful and, if necessary, ask for help before age 5.

If the habit is one of unfortunate behavior such as habitual tantrums, examine the child's home background for possible causes for his behavior. Sometimes this is not successful because the home people do not know that what they do and say causes the tantrum habit. Some competent advice may be needed. Certainly tantrums should not persist up to and through the school age years.

It is best to start work on annoying habits early so that they do not set permanently in the child's pattern of behavior. The child who carries unacceptable habits of behavior into his early teen-age years will be disciplined by experience and that is the severest discipline a child can meet. It is likely to discourage and embitter him so that getting him to change to better habits becomes almost impossible.

When a parent knows that people will not accept insults, will not tolerate bad manners, impudence and disrespect, they surely know that when this undisciplined child goes out into the world to work with people and enjoy their society he will meet with crushing resistance. The punishment then will be more than he can take. Such ways of behavior are not outgrown. They must be trained out when they appear. Home example goes a long way toward forming the attitudes expressed in behavior.

Children do outgrow many things, their clothes for example, and along with them many of the childish ways of speech and behavior. What parents and teachers must watch is the duration of the unacceptable behavior, the defects of physical maturity that can be remedied easily, and those that need the care of the specialist. Outgrowing it may be the hope that springs eternally in the human breast but it must be backed by helpful action if the children are to be freed of annoying habits and afflicting handicaps.

Angelo Patri offers readers leaflets on a variety of subjects concerning child training. If you would like to have his leaflet P-4, "Crying Children," send 10 cents in coin to him, c/o Times-News, P. O. Box 99, Station G, New York 19, N. Y.

Olympic Games Open in Fanfare And Wrangling

SQUAW VALLEY, Calif., Feb. 18 (AP)—The VIII winter Olympics open Thursday with sparkling ceremonies and the usual acrimonious wrangling. Vice President Richard M. Nixon will speak the simple, prescribed words that set in motion the games that have drawn 850 athletes from 30 nations to this 6,000-foot high valley in the Sierra mountains.

He comes 3,000 miles from Washington to make a 15-word speech.

The weather is sharp and clear. Deep snow mantles the peaks. Some 12,000 spectators are looked for—scarcely one-third the 35,000 first expected and an indication these games will be a financial failure.

Opening ceremonies for the 20-million-dollar games, following tradition, include a choir of 2,645 and the lighting of the big Olympic torch that burns throughout the games.

The flame will be skied down Little Papoose peak by Mrs. Andrea Mead Lawrence, former U.S. gold medal winner now an assistant coach for the women's team. She will turn it over to speed skater Ken Henry, Chicago, another Olympic champion, who will skate the final lap in the main arena and then ignite the huge torch.

Beneath the ceremony, there seethes the inevitable Olympic squabbles.

The East Germans and the West Germans aren't getting along. Nobody likes the main hockey rink with bits of debris frozen into the ice and an exposed end that gets mushy in bright sunlight. The athletes don't want to be quartered four to a room.

One man Olympic teams from India and Nationalist China have been shouldered out of the games. The Hockey federation wants 11 days of competition but has settled for 10.

There already have been 14 training accidents. Two skiers, Luis Molne of Spain and Battista Pordon of Italy, have broken legs.

Douglass to Coach Local Skiing Team

Haney said Douglass is a former ISA junior national contestant and was a member of the University of Idaho ski team.

At the same time Haney said entry blanks for the races are available to all juniors. The race, which has been run at Magic Mountain the past three years, serve as a sounding board for selection of Idaho's state team for the western states finals at Sun Valley in April.

Lew Burdette Expects Raise From Braves

SARASOTA, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP)—When Milwaukee Braves' general manager John McHale arrives here to discuss contract terms with Lew Burdette next week, he'd better come well stocked with vocal ammunition.

After reaching a career high of 21 victories in 1959, he felt certain he'd get a raise over his $30,000 salary. Instead, he said, he was offered a cut—a healthy one, too. The proffered 1960 contract called for $28,000, a 22 per cent reduction.

"This is ridiculous," he said. "You win 20 and you get cut. That's because the club didn't win the pennant, they say. Well, I did my best."

Burdette, 33, a native of Nitro, W. Va., who now makes his home in Sarasota, had a 21-15 record last year. No other National league pitcher won more. He hurled 20 complete games and 290 innings.

Detroit Goalie Sidelined by Unknown Hurt

DETROIT, Feb. 18 (AP)—It looks as if goalie Terry Sawchuk will miss the next three Detroit Red Wing games.

Doctors are putting the 30-year-old netminder through tests at Ann Arbor's University of Michigan hospital and so far have not learned why Sawchuk tires so easily and why he has pains in his legs.

Sawchuk was sidelined three seasons ago with infectious mononucleosis and missed 38 games. Earlier this year he was out for three games with leg pains.

A couple of weeks ago Sawchuk complained again of the pains and of fatigue, he agreed with Coach Sid Abel that a three-game rest would help. Now Sawchuk has missed twice as many games as planned.

Stitch Defeats Tombstone Smith

LOUISVILLE, Ky., Feb. 18 (AP)—Rudell Stitch scored a third-round technical knockout over Charlie (Tombstone) Smith in their welterweight fight before 2,500 fans Wednesday night at Freedom hall.

Meeting Set To Eye Threat To Hunting

Officials of the Twin Falls chapter of the Idaho Outdoor association and the Southern Idaho Fish and Game association will try to formulate plans for combatting private hunting clubs at a special meeting next week.

Plans for the meeting, which will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesday in the Idaho Power company auditorium, were announced at the IOA meeting Tuesday.

A large group of sportsmen, both country and city residents, was on hand to voice disapproval of a California group's efforts to secure hunting rights on deeded land and in turn sell these rights for profit.

The group heard from two farmers, both of whom expressed disapproval of the idea. However, one pointed out sportsmen "brought this upon themselves as much as anyone."

Personnel of the Idaho fish and game department noted the threat of losing public hunting rights pointed up the need for extensive hunter education. They called for support of the various projects being carried out to improve farmer-hunter relations.

Hawley Hill, district supervisor, warned this threat may be only a trial run. The group could study reaction and the arguments used against this first effort, break off its attempts and then come back with a new plan overcoming all current opposition arguments.

Wood Hikes Lead In PGA Tourney

DUNEDIN, Fla., Feb. 18 (AP)—Thorne Wood, Asheboro, N. C., boosted his lead to two strokes Wednesday in the third round of the 72-hole PGA national golf club championship.

Wood, 29, carded a one-under par 71 for a total 214. He fired a 73 and a 70 in the first two rounds.

Next came Al Watrous of Birmingham, Mich., and Sam Bernardi of Winnetka, Ill., at 219.

Loes Ready to Work for Giants

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—Billy Loes has been called eccentric and temperamental, among other things, since joining Brooklyn in 1952.

Sore arm and all, the 30-year-old righthander next week reports to the San Francisco Giants, who obtained him from Baltimore in an inter-league trade.

"When it comes to baseball I have no feelings," he said Wednesday. "If I can get the hitters out, okay. If not, to heck with it."

Hank Takes Sixth Straight Knockout Win

CHICAGO, Feb. 18 (AP) — Henry Hank of Detroit, No. 3 middleweight contender, Wednesday night gained his sixth straight ring victory and 20th knockout by stopping Sixto Rodriguez in the sixth round of a scheduled 10.

In clobbering Rodriguez, Hank broke his right hand on his last punch of the fight. He was taken to a hospital where X-rays showed a fracture. The hand was put in a cast and the attending physician said Hank will be sidelined from six to eight week.

The 22-year-old Rodriguez, ranked No. 4 lightheavyweight contender by the National Boxing association, was a hit-and-hold fighter in the bout at Chicago stadium.

Schow Is Leading Scorer for Team

Other leading scorers were Kendall Kinghorn 71, Dan Smith 63, Ed Cannon 21, Joe McCollum 16, John Keiker nine and Richard Roth seven. Kinghorn was second in rebounds with 68 while Cannon was third with 23. Cannon also was charged with the most fouls—32.

The frosh squad defeated Jerome ninth grade twice, Buhl frosh, Valley jayvees, Filer jayvees and Hansen jayvees. They lost to Twin Falls sophomores, Minico jayvees and Hansen jayvees. They scored 274 points for a 34-point average.

Indians to Travel Entirely by Air

CLEVELAND, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians have completely eliminated train rides from their travel plans for the 1960 baseball season.

The club's travel secretary, Spud Goldstein, said the Tribe will make all except one of its trips by plane. The exception: A 40-mile jaunt between Baltimore and Washington, D.C., which will be by chartered bus.

When traveling, the Indians will be insured for three million dollars. In addition, the club pays for a $50,000 insurance policy for each player, who names his own bene-

Cleveland Boasts Young Pitching Crop

NEW YORK, Feb. 18 (AP)—The Cleveland Indians boast the youngest pitching staff in either major league. Southpaw Jack Harshman is the only pitcher past 30. Herb Score is 26, Jim Grant 24, and Gary Bell and Jim Perry 23. The average age of the pitchers would be even reduced should one or two of the seven 1960 hopefuls come through.

This group includes [illegible] ers John Briggs, 23, Wynn Hawkins, 23, Don Schaeffer, 22, Carl Thomas, 22, and left-handers Dick Stigman, 21, and Carl [illegible], 22.

Briggs won 11 of 20 decisions with San Diego last season, Thomas was 4-5 at San Diego, Stigman lost 17 games, winning only nine with San Diego but he led the Pacific Coast league with 161 strikeouts.

Mathias could be the most promising of the lot. [illegible] helped Mobile into the [illegible] lead of the Southern a[illegible] split season with a 17-9 record.

Hawkins had a 14-9 record and a 2.55 ERA at Mobile [illegible] Schaeffer fractured his pitching arm when struck by a line drive while at Mobile [illegible] he was 5-5. [illegible] months, he was [illegible] to be promoted to San Diego [illegible] season.

Four new outfielders will come under scrutiny in the Indians' Tucson, Ariz., camp. The most experienced is Dave Dillard, who batted .299 at San Diego. John McLane, a 21-year-old southern California [illegible], received a large bonus [illegible] and hit [illegible] in 73 games at Mobile. [illegible] also 21, [illegible] Lupaw, former [illegible] state star, batted .310 at Batavia.

Panthers Host Weber College On Week-End

ALBION, Feb. 18—Still looking for their first conference win of the year, the Magic Valley Christian college Panthers draw a tough task in hosting powerful Weber college this week-end.

The Panthers will entertain Weber at Rupert Friday night and the teams will move across the river to Burley Saturday.

Mountaineers Take Fourth Defeat 97-93

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (AP)—Jon Feldman poured in 42 points Wednesday night, most of them on long jump shots, as George Washington handed fifth ranked West Virginia its fourth defeat 97-93.

Jerry West hit 40 for West Virginia, but 5-foot, 9-inch Feldman took over for points when it counted.

West Virginia now has a 20-4 record for the year and is 9-2 in the Southern conference. George Washington has a 15-8 record with 7-5 in conference play.

View topped Burley seventh 53-47 Wednesday night at Burley as [illegible] Payne hit 25 points. In the first game, Paul eliminated Burley sixth ward 47-28. Thompson got 17 to lead Paul while Dale Green's eight was tops for Burley sixth.

At Twin Falls, Don McKnight pumped through 20 points as Twin Falls fifth dropped Jerome 42-25. Gary [illegible] got 20 for the [illegible]. Twin Falls sixth eliminated [illegible] 32-29. Royce Lake got 10 for the winners. Ralph Holley made [illegible]

Bellevue's McClure Sets Three Records For Northside Basketball Conference

Big Rod McClure, Bellevue, helped himself to three Northside conference records in the recently concluded season and the Bellevue Bulldogs broke another.

Those were the only marks set for the year. McClure took the league scoring championship with a record breaking 231 points, set a Northside season free throw mark and a one-game record. Still the six-foot, five-inch center was not the best scorer averagewise.

Senior Lee Hutcheson, who led Camas County to the Northside title, averaged 22.3 points in league play but missed two games. McClure missed one and averaged 21.

McClure ended the year with 231 points in league play and 315 for the season while Hutcheson had 223 and 311. Both bettered the old Northside conference record of 219 set by Mickey Barker, Bellevue, two years ago. However, the season total mark of 320, established by [illegible] year [illegible]

State Activities Association Outlines Plans for Hoop Meets

By The Associated Press

Play gets under way next week in the district tournaments which will go a long way in determining which teams will clash for Idaho's 1960 high school basketball championships. Three state titles will be decided: class A for schools of less than 125 enrollment; class AA for schools of 125 to 299 students, and class AAA for schools with 300 or more students. The triple A tourney will be a 16-team affair to be played in the Idaho State college gymnasium in Pocatello March 17-19.

The class A and class AA meets will be [illegible] four teams each, with the single A event set for March 17-19 at either Gooding or Nampa and the double A meet at Lewiston or Coeur d'Alene, also March 18-19.

Regional tournaments will precede the state tournaments for the class A and class AA meets. But for the triple A meet the entrants will be determined by the outcome of the district meets. Three teams each will enter from the four southern Idaho meets with two each qualifying from the two northern meets.

Regional class A meets will be held March 11-12, in Coeur d'Alene for district Nos. 1 and 2; in Shoshone for districts Nos. 3 and 4 and in Idaho Falls for districts Nos. 5 and 6.

The class AA meets, also scheduled for March 11-12, at Caldwell for third and fourth districts.

In the state tournaments, one defeat will oust a team from championship consideration but first-round losers will go into a consolation bracket.

The Idaho Interscholastic Activities association set March 5 as the date for completion of district tournaments. In some districts the play will be split between two week-ends.

The lineup for fourth district tournaments include single A at Hagerman Feb. 23 to March 5; double A at Shoshone Feb. 25 to 27 and March 2 to 5, and triple A at Burley and Buhl March 3 to 5 and at Rupert March 9 to 12.

Southside Loop Sets JV Tourney

HANSEN, Feb. 18—The annual Southside conference jayvee tournament will be conducted at the Hansen high school gymnasium Monday through Wednesday nights, announces Marvin Rose, Hansen basketball coach.

Rose said Hagerman will meet Declo at 6:30 p.m., Raft River will meet Castleford at 7:30 p.m. and Hansen will be pitted against Murtaugh in the finale of the opening round.

Two games are slated for Tuesday night, beginning at 7 p.m. and the finals will be held at 7 and 8:30 p.m. Wednesday.

Finals Set for Junior High Meet

Jerome and Twin Falls eighth grade squads will meet Thursday night to decide the champions of a four-team tournament.

Jerome moved into the final by defeating Castleford 36-14 as W[illegible]lliams tossed through nine points. Griggs paced the losers with seven.

Twin Falls turned to its height and the shooting of Curtis Eaton to overcome an early Gooding lead and cop a 36-26 victory in the nightcap. Eaton hit 10 points but gave up scoring honors to Gooding's Blakeslee.

Two Southside Teams Eye District Tourney Berth In Week-End Hoop Slate

A battle for a tournament berth and five Big Seven conference games dominate the week-end basketball slate as Magic Valley season action grinds down to a nine-game slowing point. After the week-end, only three season games, all in the triple A Big Seven loop, will remain. But the tournaments, beginning with the sub district at Gooding State, will pick up interest before the season finales. The tournament berth rages between Declo Hornets and Raft River Trojans. Both have drawn difficult opponents. The Hornets will host the taller Castleford Wolves while Raft River entertains the Southside conference champion Murtaugh Red Devils.

The teams will enter the crucial "last chance" games tied for fourth place in the Southside league. Only the top four teams in Southside standings will be eligible for the district single A tournament, which opens at Hagerman Feb. 29.

Raft River is faced with the additional challenge of getting into the tournament to defend its district crown, the first the school has owned since 1935. In a third Southside game, which won't affect the standings in any way, the winless Hansen Huskies will entertain the second-place Hagerman Pirates.

Added interest also will be placed on an out-of-district meeting Friday when the Minico Spartans, leaders of the Big Seven, will travel to Pocatello. The Spartans were nipped 65-64 by Pocatello earlier this season after leading through much of the game.

In the Big Seven conference, the Burley Bobcats have their last chance at tying for the loop crown when they host the Gooding Senators.

The Bobcats trail Minico by one game and the Friday battle is their last loop outing of the year. A Burley victory would mean Minico would have to win its last game Feb. 26 to clinch sole possession of the crown. However, Minico has at least a tie for the title cinched. Burley has not defeated Gooding in season play in the last three meetings.

The Buhl Indians, always close but never quite on top, will have a chance to avenge an overtime loss to Oakley when the Hornets invade Buhl. The fifth place Jerome Tigers will be at Filer, third in conference standings. The Buhl-Filer clash originally set for Saturday has been moved back to Feb. 26.

The Little Six conference wraps up its season Friday with a battle between the fifth place Kimberly Bulldogs and last-place Shoshone Indians at Shoshone.

Saturday night, the Valley Vikings, who took second place in the Little Six loop, will host the Murtaugh Red Devils. Filer will stay in action by traveling to Gooding.

When Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs hit his fourth homerun in 1960 he will be the new all-time Cub leader. Gabby Hartnett leads with 231.

ISC Boxers to Host Coyotes on Monday

POCATELLO, Feb. 18—Veteran boxing mentor Milton (Dubby) Holt of Idaho State college said today he expects the ISC-College of Idaho dual meet next Monday to be one of the top attractions on the Bengals' home schedule this season. The reason is that Holt's mittmen will be seeking to turn the tables on College of Idaho after the Coyotes won a 4½ to 3½ meet over ISC last month.

It was Idaho State's first dual loss since 1956. The Bengals have since defeated the University of Nevada and lost to Wisconsin last week at Madison.

The Badgers' 6½ to 1½ decision over ISC last week was the worst defeat inflicted on a Holt team since 1948.

Shimabukure is a two-time National AAU champion, won the NCAA title last year, and was the regular 119-pounder on the United States Pan-American games boxing team last year.

The huge tournament will find top amateurs from all over the West and Hawaii competing for a chance to make the U. S. Olympic team.

Investigation of Bowl Game Slated

AUSTIN, Tex., Feb. 18 (AP)—The National Collegiate Athletic association will investigate charges of dirty play in the 1960 Cotton bowl, the Austin American reported Tuesday.

The newspaper quoted H. J. Dorricott, president of the NCAA, as saying a poll of the group's executive committee showed a majority of its 18 members favor an investigation.

Texas asked for a hearing by the collegiate sports governing body after some Syracuse players and some national news media charged Texas played dirty and leveled racial slurs at Syracuse Negro players.

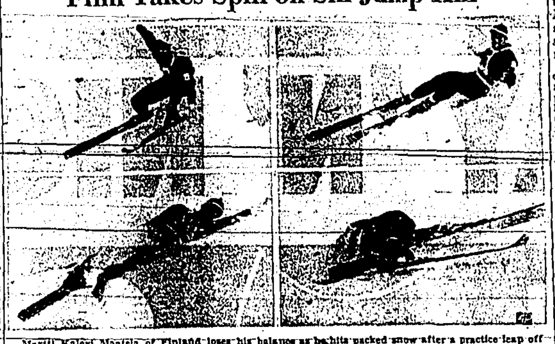
PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18 (AP)—Archie Moore can name his own terms if he will defend his light heavyweight title against young Von Clay of Philadelphia, Clay's manager said here Wednesday.

Finn Takes Spill on Ski Jump Hill



Martti Kalevi Maatela of Finland loses his balance as he hits packed snow after a practice leap off the 60-meter ski jump at Squaw Valley, Calif. Maatela fell to the side, turned around, lost his skis and finally skidded to a stop. He was not hurt. (AP wirephoto)

Hoeft Happy To Hear He's Not Washed up

DETROIT, Feb. 18 (AP)—It's refreshing to Billy Hoeft not to hear talk that he is all washed up.

"Now maybe I can concentrate just on being a pitcher and not have to worry about rumors that I've lost my fast ball," said the big left-hander who'll be pitching for the Baltimore Orioles this season.

Perhaps the worst thing that ever happened to playful Billy was landing a major league job with the Detroit Tigers before he had reached his 20th birthday.

In most of the seven-plus seasons Hoeft spent in a Detroit uniform, he never quite lived up to his advance billing. His best season was 16-7 in 1955 when he had a 2.99 earned run average. The Tigers sent him to Boston last May. The trade route eventually got him into Baltimore, under the expert guidance of Paul Richards.

Richards changed Hoeft's whole delivery. He made Hoeft stop dropping his arm way behind his back and shortened his windup.

"I was bringing my arm way around and back, and then whipping the ball," said Hoeft. "Richards said I wasn't getting enough body into the delivery. I noticed a difference right away."

Despite a 2-5 record last season, Hoeft has been told that he is being counted on for a regular job with the Orioles.

"That's a shot in the arm for me," said Hoeft, "just knowing that Richards is counting on me. I'm convinced I'm ready for a comeback."

LEAVES FOR FIGHT

Signs Brave Pact

MILWAUKEE, Feb. 18 (AP)—Red Schoendienst, ready to fight a comeback battle for his old job at second base, agreed Wednesday to terms with the Milwaukee Braves.

No terms were announced by the Braves' office after officials talked with Schoendienst on the telephone from his St. Louis home. It was reported he agreed to accept less than $30,000, at least a $5,000 slash from his salary for 1958, his last full season.

U.S. Drops Tax Lien Against Joe Louis

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Who says the internal revenue service doesn't have a heart? The bureau has admitted closing the books on its long drive to collect back income taxes from former heavyweight champion Joe Louis because "his earning days are over." "We have gotten all we could get from Mr. Louis, leaving him with some hope that he can live," said internal revenue commissioner Dana Latham.

In testimony before a closed-door house appropriations subcommittee, Latham said, "We did not get by any manner of means what he (Louis) owed us. However, his earning days are over. He cannot make any large amount of money."

Latham revealed that the internal revenue service has a constant problem of collecting taxes from people like prize-fighters and movie stars. They pay no withholding taxes or their tax obligations are larger than their withholding taxes.

The government has tried to remedy this by terminating an individual's taxable year at a given time and then, in effect, placing a levy on his purse, Latham said.

Citing that a purse of Sugar Ray Robinson is still tied up under this procedure, Latham said "we are very reluctant to do that in many instances."

McDonald, Melby Take Wrestling Tag Team Victory

After splitting the first two falls, Melby got Kenneth in trouble and "Irish-whipped" the New Zealander into the turnbuckle twice. George tried to sneak into the ring to help his partner but Melby simply whipped Kenneth into George and "knocked both out." The clinching body press was easy.

Promoter Cliff Thiede said there will be no match next week because the Radio Rondevoo has been committed to another function.

Bonnies Take 11th Victory; Nip Villanova

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 18 (AP)—St. Bonaventure won its 11th in a row by upsetting Villanova 72-70 Wednesday night on sub Bill Connery's driving layup with nine seconds left in the battle between two NIT-bound teams.

The Bonnies now are 14-3 and ninth-ranked Villanova 17-3 with its second straight defeat.

In the last six minutes the lead changed hands twice and the game was tied twice.

St. Bonaventure's Tom Stith, the leading scorer with 30 points, tied it at 66 and Ron Martin put the Bonnies ahead with an outside shot.

Villanova, ninth ranked nationally, went ahead at 70-68, and St. Bonaventure, ranked 15th in the nation, tied it at 70.

The ball was frozen, but Martin stole it with just over a minute to go, and the Bonnies froze it until Connery made his winning shot. Two desperation shots by Villanova failed.

Beetgrowers Set Meeting At Murtaugh

MURTAUGH, Feb. 18—A meeting for all beetgrowers in the area will be held at 2 p.m. Monday at the Murtaugh Grange hall, it was reported at the Grange's Idaho products potluck dinner this week.

Robert Hughes, Amalgamated Sugar company fieldman for the Murtaugh district, will be in charge of the meeting. Films will be shown on cultivation and nematode control.

Mrs. Glen McKee, home economics chairman, thanked everyone for assisting with the mother and daughter banquet.

Mr and Mrs. William Pratt and Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Riggs were named on the March 7 serving committee.

An all-day work meeting will be held Feb. 26 at the hall for all Grangers, with a potluck dinner to be served at noon.

Bob Breeding and Clark Kleinkopf reported on leasing of hunting privileges to California Sportsmen, Inc. It was noted that landowners in states having such hunting leases were allowed to hunt on their own property, but their sons were prohibited.

In other states the lease prohibits even the property owners from hunting or even carrying a gun on their own farm, they reported.

After discussion the Murtaugh Grange went on record opposing the leasing of hunting privileges to an outside organization. It is hoped all farm organizations will go on record opposing this proposition.

Grange members agreed with a suggestion made by the lecturer, Mrs. John Byer, to hold a box social soon and invite the public. Proceeds would go into a fund to be used for the purchase of stage curtains.

The program included a singspiration and work tips for the men and women. Dance students of Shirley Dumas, Burley, presented three numbers. Mrs. Earl Watts accompanied one routine on the piano.

A meditation on the Lord's prayer was followed by a piano solo, "Sweet Hour of Prayer," by Mrs. Ralph Denton.

Mrs. James Sargent gave the closing thought. Mr. and Mrs. Henry Petersen and Mr. and Mrs. Norman Petersen served.

Prosperity Kills Americans, Says Heart Physician

BOSTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—Prosperity is killing Americans by making them fat, lazy and a nation of spectators, a noted cardiologist warns.

Dr. Howard B. Sprague, a former president of the American and Massachusetts Heart associations, said most people prefer to blame their work and their stresses for the predicament in which they place their hearts.

"As a matter of fact," he said, "hardly anybody works any more as we used to think of work. Hardly anybody plays any more, either. We watch TV, or ride in cars, or go to the movies . . . We just aren't burning up our fat."

Sprague said most of his patients have to be physically more active after a heart attack than they have been in years.

"I tell them, 'You just are not going to sit there and be fat and happy, because you won't be happy long,'" he said.

Activities for T.F. Students Are Reported

Peter Welch, a sophomore majoring in electrical engineering, will be station manager, and Nancy Davis, a freshman majoring in the arts, will be secretary for the station.

One other coed also competing for the title is Angeles Arrien, a freshman majoring in the arts. Gary Dossett, a junior majoring in music education, is contest chairman for the event.

Peter Kelly, a sophomore majoring in pre-medical from Twin Falls, will be chairman of the annual blood drive on the university campus. Miss Arrien also is a member of the committee assisting with the annual blood drive.

Dietrich Students Active on Campus

DIETRICH, Feb. 18 — Joy Ann Edwards, freshman majoring in education at the University of Idaho, was installed as service chairman of the Idaho Wesley foundation at the First Methodist church in Moscow.

Juvenile Plan Is Given for Burley Rotary

BURLEY, Feb. 18—"Judge Nevel's Folly" was the title on an article in the February issue of the Rotarian on which Judd Sedam reported to the Burley Rotary club at its Tuesday luncheon at Cousin Roy's.

Judge Nevel is the third circuit court judge in Hilo, Hawaii, and explained how he deals with the juvenile delinquency problem. He has used the method of sentencing the parents to a school which teaches them to have better homes and be better parents.

Some of the delinquents have asked to have a school, too, Judd pointed out. He concluded by saying the slogan used by the Exchange club in its crime prevention week that crime presentation begins in the home, was borne out in this article.

George Scholer made a report on the Rotary magazine and showed a film strip that was narrated by Perry Stephenson.

The five visiting Rotarians present were Vern Hulbert, Twin Falls; Roy Bullen and George Welch, both Rupert; George S. Walker, Pocatello, and C. H. Bond, Moscow.

Demonstration Is Given for Cooks

RUPERT, Feb. 18—Mrs. Wilbur Hall, Paul, and Mrs. Louis Connor, Heyburn, presented a demonstration on basic bread dough at a baking school sponsored by the Minidoka county school lunch program.

Representatives attended from Emmett, Hazelton, Eden, Valley high school, Oakley, Albion, Declo, Burley junior high school, Miller elementary and Burley high school, as well as all luncheon rooms in Minidoka county.

Thirty cooks attended and Mrs. Don Andrews, Valley supervisor, was a guest. It was decided to continue such demonstration meetings with salads, main dishes and desserts to be shown during the year.

Southern Senators Huddle on Civil Rights Bill

Sen. Richard B. Russell, D., Ga., second from left, huddles off the senate floor Monday with three other southern senators, Russell Long, D., La., left, John Sparkman, D., La., second from right, and Strom Thurman, D., S.C., right, after Sen. Lyndon Johnson, D., Tex., majority leader called up civil rights legislation on the senate floor in a surprise maneuver. Senator Russell, quarterback for the southern bloc, protested the action on the floor. (AP wirephoto)

Richfield Riding Club Holds Party

RICHFIELD, Feb. 18—A sleigh riding party, wiener roast and late supper were held by the Richfield Riding club Saturday night at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Johnson.

Mrs. Carl Piper, Mrs. Bruce Sorensen, Wendell King and Mrs. Johnson were in charge of arrangements. Johnson was in charge of the sleigh ride.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Luff and Mr. and Mrs. Dan Ralls were guests. Dancing concluded the evening.

Next meeting of the Riding club will be at 8:30 p.m. March 9 at the IOOF hall with a no-host dinner preceding the meeting. Guests will be prospective new members. Interested persons may contact James Brown, president, or Riding club members.

Political Course Begun at Rupert

RUPERT, Feb. 18—A series of eight political study sessions was begun Tuesday morning at the office of County Clerk Willard Hayward.

Hayward said that the course sponsored by the U. S. Chamber of Commerce and the local chamber, is to stimulate interest in politics and is non-partisan in content.

Chamber officials expressed the wish that other groups would be formed throughout the country and said anyone wishing to form such a group could contact the chamber for additional information.

Attend Parleys

WENDELL, Feb. 18—The Rev. Chad E. Bollek and Dr. Richard Hagerman are attending a special moderator's meeting on "The United Presbyterian Task in Stewardship and Missions," at the Bellevue hotel, San Francisco, Tuesday through today.

Dr. H. F. Holsinger and Arthur Bennett joined Dr. Hagerman Thursday to attend the seventh western meeting of the National Council of United Presbyterian men in Sacramento, over the weekend.

$307.71 Raised

WENDELL, Feb. 18 — Wendell TAPs for 1960 has raised $307.71 for polio. Lucy Huffaker, high school junior, who is TAPs chairman for Wendell, reports. Mrs. Dale Bunn was TAPs adviser.

Republican Club Hears of School

HAGERMAN, Feb. 18—Harold Butler, Bliss, told Snake River Republican Women's club members of the school for GOP workers held in Twin Falls last fall, at a meeting held at the home of Mrs. Frank Henslee Monday.

He was introduced by Mrs. Emma McIntosh, program chairman. Mrs. Cherry Purdy, Bliss, was admitted as a member. Mrs. Cle Prince was appointed as precinct chairman, and Mrs. James Faulkner as public relations chairman.

Mrs. Prince reported on the executive meeting of the State Federation of Republican Women in Boise.

It was voted to meet every month from now until after the general elections in November. Mrs. Sandy was co-hostess.

Burley Starts Steps Toward Street Project

BURLEY, Feb. 18 — The city council directed the city clerk, engineer and attorney to proceed with legal steps for a street improvement project during its regular meeting Monday evening.

Tentative plans for this project include embracing the area around the Burley LDS stake house, Albion avenue, and some adjacent streets between Railroad avenue and Fifth street as well as 13th street between Park and Schodde avenue south, J. R. Huckabee, city engineer, said.

As required by law, public protest meetings will be held to determine the accurate limits of the project, he pointed out. The time for a call for bids or actual work has not been set, but may be late in the year.

The Burley Go-Kart association was given approval by the council for a racing area in the vicinity between the airport buildings and highway 30 north. The city engineer was directed to prepare the area.

A request of Wayne Konrad for rezoning of property on 27th street east of the property formerly known as the Overland Inn from residential to commercial was referred to the zoning commission.

The group discussed the agreement the city has for purchasing 20 acres of land owned by Henry Van Engelen which is south of the Burley golf course and bounded by the Snake river and highway 30 south.

The city will buy the land on a 10-year program and purchase two acres each with a perpetuating option to buy the rest. The city's objective is eventually to expand the present golf course to an 18-hole course. The city engineer was directed to get the necessary land descriptions ready so that the first year's contract requirement can be satisfied.

The council approved the road system proposed by Boyd Warwood and Veri McBride on the new land development of their property in the south part of town. The road system gives adequate access without deadends.

Their proposals were accepted as a part of a master plan in developing the area along Almo avenue between Goose creek and the First Lift canal.

The council approved a new service station building permit for $25,000 to be built by Continental Oil company on West Main street.

Isaac Lee was granted a permit for construction of an $8,000 store to be located across from Burley Motor company on North Main. Other permits included an $18,000 home for B. A. Moline, new $1,000 garage for Calvin Wilson and $1,000 home addition for Doyle Willard.

Bid opening date was set tentatively for April 4 for a new deep well pump installation for the city water system.

Leader Training Course Is Begun

RUPERT, Feb. 18—The second in a series of four leadership training meetings for 4-H leaders was held in the Civic club rooms Monday night.

Vance Smith, county agent, and Mrs. Josephine Mason, home demonstration agent, presented the lessons. Mrs. Mason conducted social games and Smith gave an illustrated talk on the needs of youth and what the 4-H organization does to meet those needs. Members of the audience participated in a demonstration of the organizing of a 4-H club unit.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 22 and will feature as topics "How leaders help 4-H members to learn," and "The earmarks of 4-H club leadership."

Mrs. Mason will give a demonstration of demonstration techniques and on exhibits. The fourth and last meeting of the series will be held Feb. 29.

Paintings at Blaine Fete Draw Praise

KETCHUM, Feb. 18—The exhibit of paintings by Bill Rane at the Leadville Espresso house, which opened with a reception honoring the artist, is being well received.

The month-long exhibit of oils and other-media paintings is open each day.

The one-man show, Rane's first in Idaho outside the Boise area, met with an enthusiastic response from opening night viewers. Ranging from the subdued, almost monochromatic portraits, through various religious pictures with Christ and Madonna themes, to brilliant landscapes and a wildly awkward picture of a pregnant Pam, the show indicated why the Idaho-born artist has received such favorable notices on previous shows in San Francisco.

Heavily textured, his paintings indicate a pre-occupation with light, as well as possibly Mexican-inspired use of vivid color and frequently simple, almost child-like forms and rhythms.

The show is open to the public week days from 8 p.m. to 1 a.m. and Sundays from 4 p.m. to midnight at the Sun Valley area coffee house until March 12.

Wendell Citizens Report Activities

WENDELL, Feb. 18 — Mr. and Mrs. Marion Howell, Caldwell, former residents, were in Wendell last week looking after business interests and visiting friends.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCracken, Boise, parents of Mrs. Arlo Wuthrich, were guests at the Wuthrich home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Byrnes received a telephone call from their son, MM 3/cl Melvin Byrnes, who is stationed at Stockton, Calif.

Surprise

DIETRICH, Feb. 18—A group of men from the Shoshone Methodist Men's club surprised Sid Edwards at his home for an early-morning breakfast Sunday, with the men preparing the meal.

University Aides Interview Pupils

BURLEY, Feb. 18—Three members of the faculty of the University of Idaho, Moscow, visited the Burley high school Tuesday to have interviews and answer questions of the students pertaining to higher education.

Mrs. Marjorie Neeley, dean of women and Charles Bond, chairman of counseling and guidance, interviewed students and Kenneth Bush, head of the mathematics department at the university, taught classes at all levels. Bond, former principal in the Twin Falls schools, also taught some senior classes.

This team visited Minico high school Monday, will be in Twin Falls Wednesday and part of Thursday, Jerome on Thursday and Mountain Home on Friday.

Professor Bush stated that the team was very much impressed with the high level of work being done in the classrooms visited and with the quality of the administrators who were furthering the education of the students.

Program Set

CASTLEFORD, Feb. 18 — Founder's day program will be presented at 3 p.m. Monday at the Castleford PTA meeting in the home economics room at the high school. Future Homemakers of America will serve refreshments.

Castleford Area Jaunts Reported

CASTLEFORD, Feb. 18 — The Rev. Virgil Snodgrass, minister of the Methodist church here, has returned from Lawrence, Kans., where he visited his family.

Mr and Mrs. Glenn Hill and Mr. and Mrs. John Blick have returned home from a trip to Las Vegas, Nev.; Phoenix and Tucson, Ariz., and Los Angeles.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Clutter, Long Beach, Calif., and Vern Freeman, Nampa, visited Mr. and Mrs. James Wheeler.

Mr. and Mrs. John Nihill and son, Kensal, N.D., visited Mrs. Faye Logan. Mrs. Nihill is a niece of Andrew Syvertson, who owns a farm south of Castleford.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Koch, H. F. Easterday and LaRay Easterday, have returned home from visiting relatives in Eustis and Cozad, Nebr.

Recovers

KING HILL, Feb. 18 — Harold Rassmussen is reported recovering from injuries received last week when he fell from a bridge while working with the King Hill Irrigation district maintenance crew.

He was taken to Glenns Ferry for medical treatment for a sprained back and hip. He is reported improving but is still unable to work.

Burley Areas Slate Policy Talk Monday

BURLEY, Feb. 18—Persons interested in the "Great Decisions" discussion program have set 8 p.m. Monday for their regular meeting time, it was decided at the initial meeting this week in the library.

The course will last eight weeks and is sponsored by the Cassia county extension service, according to Mrs. John Hackney. Those wishing additional information may obtain it from Glen Bodily, county agent.

It was noted that when citizens participate in "Great Decisions" they are sharing in an important nationwide citizen activity. They are putting democracy to work, making their informed opinions count.

"Great Decisions" is offered nationally by the Foreign Policy association, a nationwide non-partisan educational agency. FPA was founded in 1918 and has been praised by every U. S. President since Woodrow Wilson for its contribution to a better informed American public.

The topics to be discussed at next week's meeting are "Communist timetable for 1960 — what odds?" and "Divided Europe—cooperation or crisis?"

2 Valley Youths Held in Oregon

RUPERT, Feb. 18—Two Magic Valley youths who were arrested this week in Baker, Ore., on suspicion of burglary, have admitted breaking into the Minico high school Jan. 28, Sheriff Theo Johnson said today.

Richard Dowell, 19, Rupert, and Thomas Bartley, 17, Declo, are being held in Baker pending outcome of the burglary charges there. When picked up they were driving a stolen car sought by Cassia county officers, Sheriff Johnson said.

Quantities of pencils marked with the school name were found inside the car and the youths admitted entering the local high school, the sheriff said, adding they probably will be returned here to face charges.

TEACHES IN AREA

WENDELL, Feb. 18—Dean Eaton, student at the University of Idaho, Moscow, began a two-month period of practice teaching at the Gooding state school the past week.

More Information Obtained—On David Ketchum for Meet

KETCHUM, Feb. 18—John Sidley, president of the Wood River Historical society, states that additional information on David Ketchum, for whom this village was named, has been obtained and will be reported at the regular monthly meeting to be held at 8 p.m. Feb. 29 at the community library.

The plaques which are to be posted on the oldest buildings in the area are almost ready for final lettering. Hailey and Bellevue residents are urged to attend the meeting and offer suggestions as to which buildings should be marked in their respective towns.

Mrs. John Irvin, secretary, states that the Bellevue city hall and jail have been suggested, but as yet no statistics have been received as to building dates.

Oldtimers of the Wood River area are especially invited to attend this meeting so they may enter into the expected discussion.

Sidley also reports Dr. M. Milliken, a member 40 years and director the last 30 years of the Cleveland Museum of Art (fourth greatest museum in America) was guest at a directors meeting of the society at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John W. Irvin Monday evening.

For four years Dr. Milliken was president of the American Association of Museums and for four years president of the American International Council of Museums. He is a member of the national commission for UNESCO to represent museums, and is active in the American Federation of Arts.

He is noted for his great zest for life and, along with his many other interests, is an active skier, coming to Sun Valley each winter season, Sidley says.

He expressed great enthusiasm for the Wood River Historical society and pledged a substantial donation as soon as the society's incorporation papers are made final.

Dr. Milliken stated he has a tremendous interest in keeping alive the quality of our (the nation's) heritage.

"Things disappear so very, very fast," he stated, "and even the local legends are of great interest and importance."

He spent the years during World war II in the Jackson hole country where he studied the legends in that area.

HAILEY, Feb. 18—Winners of the valentine art contest held in the Hailey and Bellevue schools were announced today by Mrs. Glenn Wright, art director of Blaine county schools.

From seventh and eighth grade entries, with Mrs. Ruth Myers as instructor, Robert Dale Sherman was awarded first place and Carla Barker and Johanna Kohler tied for second place. Lois Divine, Dolores Wallace and Ruth Johnson received honorable mention.

Terry Lee Sherman received first place in entries from the fourth, fifth and sixth graders. Terry, a fourth grader, is taught by Mrs. Lester Lewis.

In entries from first, second and third graders, Mary Rose Bernhardt, first grader, took first place and Robert Nicholson, second grader, received honorable mention. Mrs. Arne Friestad is instructor of the second grade and Mrs. Theodore Divine the first grade.

In the Hailey grade school, from seventh and eighth grade entries, first place went to Theodore McCoy, eighth grader, and second place to Pamela Kain, seventh grader. Mrs. Delmer Nicholson is art instructor for these grades.

From fourth, fifth and sixth grade entries, first place went to Karen Jeppeson. Vicki Rainey and Patricia Waller tied for second place. Jeannie Savelberg received honorable mention.

Mr. and Mrs. Mark Patterson and Mrs. Alleene Potter are instructors in these grades.

In the first, second and third grades, taught by Mrs. Alex Fischer, Mrs. Louis Stevens and Mrs. Howard Allred, first place went to James Rich, second grader, second place to Patricia Anderson, third grader, and honorable mention to Vicki Rutter, first grader.

SPEAKERS NOTED

Employers' Data Urged For Reports

MIAMI BEACH, Feb. 18 (UPI)—The AFL-CIO executive council has demanded that congress compel employers to file data with the labor department to insure impartiality in labor output analysis.

The labor leaders, who in closing a nine-day meeting here, charged that the bureau of labor statistics yielded to pressure in compiling its latest productivity report.

George Meany, AFL-CIO president, accused the bureau of "evading its responsibilities" to the public by omitting any analysis of long-term trends in output per man-hour.

He said the bureau was not guilty of dishonest or discriminatory practices but was under great pressure from business firms.

The bureau's productivity figures take on added importance in view of President Eisenhower's plea for limiting wage increases to measure gains in productivity, Meany said.

The executive council of the AFL-CIO condemned the bureau report as "practically barren of any meaningful analysis."

Stanley Ruttenberg, chief economist of the AFL-CIO, said the report omitted material contained in an earlier draft showing an acceleration of output per man-hour in recent years.

Degree Work Is Noted by Grange

SHOSHONE, Feb. 18—Fourth degree drill work practiced at Magic Grange meeting last week will be exemplified at the March 11 meeting.

Discussion was held on leasing of hunting grounds to out-of-state hunters and the July 4 celebration scheduled for Shoshone.

Mrs. Helen McWillis was hostess.

De Gaulle to See Four U. S. Cities

WASHINGTON, Feb. 18 (UPI)—French President Charles de Gaulle will visit San Francisco, New Orleans and New York as well as Washington during his April visit to the United States.

De Gaulle will arrive in Washington from Ottawa on April 22 and will remain until April 25 or 26. He then will spend a day in New York, one or two days in San Francisco and an undetermined time ranging from a few hours to two days in New Orleans.

From New Orleans, De Gaulle is expected to fly to the French departments of Martinique and Guadelupe in the Caribbean before returning to Paris.

ATTENDS LUNCHEON

KING HILL, Feb. 18—Sharon Greer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Greer, student at the College of Idaho, was one of 255 students selected to attend a luncheon at the college honoring the delegation of Russian officials touring the country.

LUNCH NETS $25

KING HILL, Feb. 18—Approximately $25 was earned from the lunch served at the Gyle Miller farm sale by the Grange. Serving were Mrs. William Cain, Mrs. Cecil Bott, Mrs. Thomas Chafin, Mrs. Melvin Helwich, Mrs. Earl Ellis and Mrs. Lynn Sherman.

Principal for Gooding Gets PTA's Award

GOODING, Feb. 18 — Eugene Gibbons, elementary school principal, was awarded a PTA life membership card and pin by Russell Brooks at the regular meeting Monday evening at the elementary school.

Other awards included a past president's pin to Mrs. James Schmitt and the procedure book for 1957 and 1958 to Mrs. Milton Jensen by the president, Mrs. Robert Hollifield.

Mrs. W. R. Quane reported on mystery bag earnings and the budget for 1959 and 1960. Attendance awards for January given by Mrs. Ray Clements were Mrs. Paul Osborne's fourth grade in the elementary school, Mrs. Albert Dickson's seventh grade in the junior high and the freshman class in the high school.

Mrs. M. V. Klingler, scholarship committee chairman, announced her committee plans to sponsor a musical group including an instrumental trio and baritone soloist from the University of Idaho here March 10.

Mrs. Jensen, ways and means committee, reported the group is sponsoring a carnival from 7 to 10 p.m. Friday in the elementary school gymnasium to which the public is invited.

An open discussion concerning the grouping and grading of students according to each student's abilities was conducted by Gibbons.

The founders' day address was read by Mrs. Hollifield. A clarinet trio from the high school played. A special founders' day cake baked by Mrs. Lyle Thomas was served by mothers of fourth grade students.

Tolman Wins 'Blue Pencil'

BURLEY, Feb. 18—"This can't be allowed to go on" was the title of the speech which won the blue pencil for Carleon Tolman at the Burley Toastmaster's club meeting at the National hotel Monday evening.

He cited the example of the recent cancer scare with chickens through the use of stilbestrol.

Otis Orton gave a speech entitled "A smart way to sell a house" and Richard Jones spoke on "What to do."

Journeys Noted In Lincoln Area

RICHFIELD, Feb. 18—Mr. and Mrs. Gary Hubsmith and daughter have returned to Boise after visiting Richfield relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Dick Johnson are in Salt Lake City where his brother, Frank Johnson, underwent surgery at the LDS hospital last week.

Cecil Helderman has returned from a visit in Nampa, Wilder and Boise with relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Vern Thomas and Mr. and Mrs. Grant Thomas made a trip to Mexico this week after visiting in California.

Theodore Tuttle, Salt Lake City, will be in Richfield Friday to meet at the LDS church to discuss the seminary and other educational matters.

Kenneth Bush, head of the university mathematics department and a former principal in the Twin Falls school system, talked with mathematics students at the high school. Mrs. Marjorie Neeley, dean of women, and Charles Bond, chairman of counseling and guidance, interviewed high school students and answered questions.

The faculty members were at the high school all day Wednesday and will leave Thursday morning for interviews at Jerome.

IF THE PRICE

1—A cattle and sheep combination spread? Runs 2,000 sheep and 500 or more cattle, and produces lots of grain. You raise all your hay and sell grain. This is an ideal set-up, as at present operated. We would split it, if?

3—We have homes in Twin Falls, Jerome, Wendell and Eden.

4—We have 30 farms ranging from 40 acres up to 5,700 scattered throughout Magic Valley. Surely one of these should fit your need.

These varied listings plus our experience and the careful consideration we give qualify us to help you. We co-operate with realtors everywhere.

Oh Boy, SNOBOY®-Pillsbury Happy Apple Cake!

A joy of a cake to serve . . . with the happiest apples, by SNOBOY and the most lovin' cake mixes, by Pillsbury

Nothin' says lovin' like something-from-the-oven. And Pillsbury says it best with this Happy Apple cake. Delicious SNOBOY apples, the happiest apples because they're picked for flavor, then gaily combined with new, deluxe Pillsbury cake mixes. The result? A new taste treat . . . so rich, so moist, so quickly gone.

HAPPY APPLE CAKE

Put 3 tablespoons butter and ¼ cup firmly packed brown sugar in each of two 8 or 9-inch round pans. Place over low heat just until butter melts. Arrange 1 cup thinly sliced SNOBOY apples in each pan.

Prepare your favorite Pillsbury Deluxe Cake Mix as directed on package. Divide batter between pans. Bake at 350° for 35 to 40 minutes. Cool 5 minutes. Loosen sides of cake layers and turn upside down on cooling rack; remove pans. Cool. Stack layers with apples in center for "filling."

Frost with Pillsbury Fluffy White Frosting Mix. Make a "Happy Apple" face by cutting unpeeled SNOBOY apples in wedges for hair, eyebrows, nose and mouth.

Use apple quarters to form ears; use apple circles for eyes. Finally, cover the cut edges of apple sections with Fluffy White Frosting.

2-PIECE CAKE SERVING SET
$2.25 VALUE . . . ONLY $1.00!

—with coupon in Snoboy bag and Pillsbury Deluxe Cake Mix box top.

This lovely cake server set is yours when you try your first Happy Apple Cake! Plate is big 11½" size! Attractive pattern is permanently locked under zircon-hardened glaze. Made by a famous creator of fine dinnerware, it makes a perfect setting for your proudest cakes!

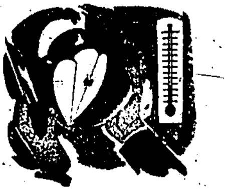
Why there is no Apple like a SNOBOY®

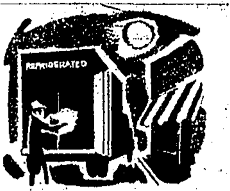
Soil, sun and temperature work in unique combination in the famed Yakima-Wenatchee Valley of Washington State to produce SNOBOY's vivid coloring, extra juiciness, and superb flavor! There SNOBOYS are selected from the finest orchards.

Every apple has its day—the day when its flavor peak is reached. On that exact day, SNOBOY field inspectors order the apples picked—and they specify the sun-drenched apples from the top and outside of the finest trees!



Within the hour after picking, SNOBOY apples are rushed to cool storage rooms. There, at a constant 31 degrees, the flavor "matures" . . . starches change to natural fruit sugars . . . and SNOBOY inspectors say "Ship!"

Once they're fully matured and ready to ship, SNOBOY apples are showered, sorted, wrapped and packed by hand to protect against bruising during shipment . . . to guard SNOBOY's brilliant flavor!



SNOBOY's tree-to-grocer control continues as the apples are rushed in cool, cool trucks to your grocer's. There you get famous SNOBOY quality . . . true picked for flavor quality!

To enjoy all the eating pleasures SNOBOY has worked so hard to protect, do your share: Always keep your SNOBOYS in the refrigerator until you eat them. They'll be full-flavored and crisp!
